Draft Of Rockefeller Looms As Romney Quits GOP Race

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY FETE! Mrs. Richard Davis of Springview Rd., mother of four daughters, today observed her seventh birthday anniversary—the result of Leap Year calendar provisions for a Feb. 29 once every four years. Mrs. Davis, the former Barbara Thorne who is actually 28, will be feted at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thorne of Dixonville.

U.S. Planes Hit Targets Near Hanoi

Communists Down U.S. Helicopter; 19 Aboard Killed

SAIGON (AP) — Guided by radar, U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers flew through overcast skies today to attack targets in the Hanoi area for the second day in a row.

"We have no operational reports yet," a U.S. spokesman said.

The North Vietnamese news agency said U.S. planes raided Hanoi and its suburbs and one American jet was shot down. Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that residential quarters in the center of Hanoi were hit.

The radar-guided American warplanes attacked three vital targets around Hanoi and Haiphong on Wednesday, including an army barracks hit for the first time in the war. But the U.S. Command announced Communist gunners shot down a big four-engine C130 transport plane and three helicopters over South Vietnam, and an F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber over the North.

One of the helicopters was a big U.S. Marine CH46 Sea Knight that was downed 11 miles northeast of the Marine fortress at Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. All 19 servicemen aboard the Sea Knight were killed, the U.S. Command said.

The latest North Vietnamese target to come off the Pentagon's restricted list was the Chuc Son army barracks 12 miles southwest of Hanoi. Air Force F4 Phantoms raked it during 70 missions flown Wednesday, but overcast skies spawned by the northeast monsoons prevented assessment of damage.

Navy A6 all-weather Intruders made the third attack in four days on the railroad yard 1.7 miles northwest of the center of Haiphong as well as a repeat raid on a radio communications receiver station 10 miles south of Hanoi. Again weather prevented a survey of the damage.

The Haiphong railroad yard is on the main Haiphong-Hanoi line, and much of the war supplies from Red China and other Communist countries funnel through it.

The Hanoi communications station is believed to be a key link in North Vietnam's air defense network and was attacked for the first time in the war Feb. 10.

Michigan Executive Admits He Couldn't Have Beaten Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Romney has quit the Republican presidential race without a ballot cast—and the White House draft that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has promised to answer could be taking shape now.

Rockefeller, most prominent cheerleader in Romney's hectic, fruitless 101-day quest for the GOP presidential nomination, said the wishes of his fellow Republican governors would be a major influence on his future course.

Many of those governors are in Washington today and Romney in withdrawing challenged them to forge a consensus around some other candidate. The Michigan governor acknowledged he has not won rank and file Republican support. He suggested the governors look for another contender who might.

Romney thus admitted he had no hope of defeating front-running former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican nomination.

Some Republicans were doubtful the governors' agreement Romney recommended could be achieved. But the pressure on Rockefeller clearly was rising. Rockefeller said once again that he is not a candidate for the nomination he has sought twice before, but that he would accept a draft if one came.

"I have no plans to change my plans," he said.

Other Republican moderates were trying to change them for him.

Romney said only he will "support wholeheartedly the candidate for president to whom the Republican governors give their support." So far, those 28 governors haven't given it to anybody.

It was learned that Romney—who read his withdrawal statement to a crowd of more than 200 reporters and politicians, then would say no more—does not now plan an attempt to transfer his admittedly sparse support to Rockefeller.

Only Rockefeller and John Chafee of Rhode Island among the Republican governors went

Most Teachers To Join Seminar

The majority of the teachers in Midland public schools plan to attend professional seminars Monday although they have been denied requests for the day off by the Board of Education.

Forty-six instructors, all members of the Midland Education Association — which has 50 members — plan to take the day off for "personal business." This means they will not be paid.

Reynold A. Peduzzi, MEA president, said today the teachers will attend either the statewide professional seminar at Harrisburg or the county seminar scheduled for Aliquippa.

THE WESTERN Beaver County Board of Education will hold an emergency meeting tonight at 8 p. m. at the Fairview School to make a final decision on the request by teachers in its system.

The board earlier turned down the WBEA, stating the schools would operate as usual Monday.

Supt. Frank A. Meredith conducted a faculty meeting with all professional employes at the school Wednesday. The entire situation was discussed, including the board's position and decision to conduct classes Monday. The board said the students will be brought to school as usual and the superintendent will determine if there are enough teachers present to adequately supervise.

When the meeting disbanded, the teachers then held their own meeting and decided to write another letter to the board asking for the day off Monday. They will ask that the day off be made up at the discression of the board. The board members then set the emergency

Strike Shuts Four Schools In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Officials closed four junior and senior high schools today in the face of a teachers' strike, chilly classrooms and unruly pupils.

Albert Fondy, president of the striking Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, said the walkout by 600 of the city's 3,000 teachers was effective.

Dr. Sidney P. Marland Jr., the superintendent of schools, said classes at the four schools were dismissed because of "misbehavior by students and property damage by students."

"The lawlessness of pupils, I'm afraid is a product of the lawlessness of teachers," he said.

The teachers walked out despite a court injunction.

War Step-Up Seen Pushing Tax Hike Call

Could Be Higher Than 10% Surtax Plan In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any escalation of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam may reportedly generate an administration call for a tax hike even higher than its 10 per cent surcharge proposal before Congress.

Government officials emphasize they believe the current situation—and they stress current—requires at the very least a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

Congress has been cool to the whole idea of hiking taxes and the administration has left the way clear to accept less than the 10 per cent proposal if necessary.

But any major increase in U.S. forces in Vietnam would force the administration to at least consider a higher rate. The reason: The cost of sending one man to Vietnam for a year is estimated at up to $40,000. If 50,000 more troops were authorized the cost would be $2 billion a year.

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff conferred Wednesday with President Johnson amid speculation of increases in troop strength in Vietnam and a possible new call-up of reserves.

Bond Issue OKd By Ohio's House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' $750 million bond issue proposal cleared the Ohio House late Wednesday night but a snarl on legislative pay raises dimmed hopes for a session windup today.

Representatives debated more than two hours after day-long private conferences on the bond issue, and a Democratic amendment approved on the floor restricted revenue bond issue provisions to three areas of spending.

Wetzel Endorses Bond Issue Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Republican from Columbiana County, supported the $750 million bond issue proposal passed by the Ohio House Wednesday.

Wetzel joined 44 Republicans and 32 Democrats to pass the resolution to place the issue before the voters in November.

The final vote was 77-16 with 12 Republicans leaving ranks to join four Democrats against the proposal. It now goes back to the Senate and then most likely to a conference committee to iron out differences.

The dozen Republicans who dissented confirmed reports of several weeks duration that some majority party members do not want a bond issue this election year and are against the concept of revenue bond financing incorporated in the package. It permits the legislature to issue bonds retireable with fees and other nontax revenue without setting a limit on the amount of such bond issues.

Rep. David L. Headley D-96 Summit sponsored the floor amendment that restricted revenue bond financing to facilities for mental health and retardation, parks, and recreation amendment won 52-37 approval.

The bond provides for the state to sell $750 million in general obligation bonds, to be retired with tax money, for highways and capital improvements currently needed. The issue would go before voters in November.

It contains $500 million for highways, $250 million for various capital improvements.

Jury Verdict Waited Today In Burglary

Closing Arguments Heard At Lisbon In John Finlay Case

By PAUL YOUNG

Closing arguments began this morning at Lisbon in the trial of John (Bill) Finlay, 18, of 820 Highland Ave., East Liverpool, charged with a burglary Dec. 14 at the Sunoco Service Station in Calcutta. A jury verdict is expected today.

The January grand jury charged two other youths in the break-in. One, like Finlay, pleaded not guilty and is awaiting trial.

The other, Keith Matheny, 18, of 1004 St. Clair Ave., pleaded guilty and testified Wednesday for the state. He said he was with Finlay and the other youth at the Calcutta station about 4 a.m. Dec. 14 in Finlay's car—a 1954 green Chevrolet.

He said Finlay and the other youth, also 18, broke a window to get into the station, but fled through a field when a sheriff's cruiser pulled up.

Two more Chester men have filed for nomination for Council in the municipal primary election April 2, City Clerk Donald Hood reports.

Incumbent Third Ward Councilman Thomas Bowen filed Wednesday night for renomination to another term and Clyde (Red) Samples, a steelworker, filed for nomination to the Second Ward post, both on the Democrat slate.

Bowen, 46, of 114 Virginia Ave., is employed at the Titanium Metals Corp. in Toronto.

Samples, 33, of 424 Indiana Ave., a native of Philippi who has resided in Chester since 1957, is employed in the cold strip department of the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Division.

He is married, has three sons and a daughter and is a member of the fire department and a social member of the American Legion and VFW.

Wetzel Asks For Study Of Pension Fund

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Columbiana County introduced a bill Wednesday in the Ohio legislature asking a study of alternate methods of financing a new state - administered police and firemen's pension fund, rather than allowing the full burden to fall upon municipalities.

Such a study was asked in a resolution enacted by City Council Feb. 19. It asserted that Ohio municipalities, already hard - pressed for funds, cannot afford to pay the amounts determined by the administrators of the state fund without imposing new taxes.

City water department crews Wednesday uncovered and repaired a break in a 6-inch main on St. Clair Ave. between Park Blvd. and Armstrong Ln.

But one of the three lanes of the concrete pavement remained closed this morning while the linesmen backfilled the excavation. Motorists were urged to proceed through the area with caution because of the workmen at the site as well as ice that formed on the pavement as a result of the break.

The break was discovered Tuesday afternoon. The linesmen started work on repairs Wednesday morning.

Defense Chief Steps Out Of Office Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara completes today a record seven-year tour as secretary of defense, praised by President Johnson as a "brilliant and good man" but with some of his basic policies under heavy attack.

The military brass, some of whom are not sorry to see him go, arranged a gaudy good-by for the 51-year-old McNamara, complete with a 19-gun artillery salute, band music, an honor guard of troops and a "fly-over" of war planes.

Somebody thoughtfully included in the fly-over three Air Force F111s, once called the TFX and symbols of one of the most unresolved controversies of the defense chief's administration.

McNamara, who received the Medal of Freedom from Johnson in an emotional ceremony Wednesday at the White House, was in line for another medal to be pinned on at the Pentagon ceremony.

He was expected to leave tonight for a month-long vacation in Aspen, Colo., before taking on his new job as president of the World Bank on April 1.

Waiting to step into McNamara's office was Clark Clifford, long-time Washington lawyer and political figure who will be sworn in Friday by Johnson.

McNamara's seven years, one month and eight days as Pentagon chief is a record that may stand for a long time. It eclipses the previous mark of four years, eight months and 12 days set by the late Charles E. Wilson in the Eisenhower administration.

Some critics—and some friends—say McNamara stayed too long. Perhaps he would agree, because recently he said wistfully that he was counting the days until he could put down the burdens of his back-breaking job.

Probably McNamara's greatest disappointment and frustration is the Vietnam war. He once remarked to a visitor: "Who would have thought it would last so long?"

Foes used to call it "McNamara's war," but late last year some war policy critics found themselves anguished by the announcement that he was leaving the Pentagon. Belatedly, some of them came to regard him as a restraining influence on Johnson and the military chiefs.

Even his critics acknowledge McNamara achieved some brilliant reforms.

There is general acknowledgement that the fundamental alteration of the budgeting system and of management of the enormously complex Defense Department is McNamara's great monument.

Johnson referred to this Wednesday, while bestowing what he noted was the highest award a President can confer on a civilian. "Bob McNamara may not have accomplished the impossible," Johnson said. "But he has achieved the unlikely; managing and directing the huge complexity that is our defense establishment."

U.S. Casualty List Hit Near Record High

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S Command reported today that American casualties last week reached the second highest toll of the Vietnam war with 470 men killed and 2,675 wounded.

The U.S. casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese forces which reported 494 government troops killed, 1,532 wounded and 135 missing or captured.

Both tolls were for the week ending last Saturday. Many of the casualties occurred in the heavy fighting in Hue, last city to be still contested, but now in allied hands.

The Communists thrust into Hue after they launched their lunar new year offensive Jan. 30 and 31.

Other allied forces reported 19 killed for a combined total of 923 deaths.

As against this total, allied forces reported killing 5,700 Communist soldiers last week.

The U.S. toll of 470 dead last week was exceeded in the previous week when 543 American servicemen were killed at the height of the February fighting to set a new high for the war.

Last week's total of 2,675 Americans wounded was less than 100 below the war's highest week, the first week in February when 2,757 U.S. troops sustained wounds.

Of the wounded last week, 1,200 men required hospitalization or about half the total. The rest were treated without being hospitalized and returned to duty.

Defense Chief Steps Out Of Office Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara completes today a record seven-year tour as secretary of defense, praised by President Johnson as a "brilliant and good man" but with some of his basic policies under heavy attack.

The military brass, some of whom are not sorry to see him go, arranged a gaudy good-by for the 51-year-old McNamara, complete with a 19-gun artillery salute, band music, an honor guard of troops and a "fly-over" of war planes.

Somebody thoughtfully included in the fly-over three Air Force F111s, once called the TFX and symbols of one of the great unresolved controversies of the defense chief's administration.

McNamara, who received the Medal of Freedom from Johnson in an emotional ceremony Wednesday at the White House, was in line for another medal to be pinned on at the Pentagon ceremony.

He was expected to leave tonight for a month-long vacation in Aspen, Colo., before taking on his new job as president of the World Bank on April 1.

Waiting to step into McNamara's office was Clark Clifford, long-time Washington lawyer and political figure who will be sworn in Friday by Johnson.

McNamara's seven years, one month and eight days as Pentagon chief is a record that may stand for a long time. It eclipses the previous mark of four years, eight months and 12 days set by the late Charles E. Wilson in the Eisenhower administration.

Some critics—and some friends—say McNamara stayed too long. Perhaps he would agree, because recently he said wistfully that he was counting the days until he could put down the burdens of his back-breaking job.

Probably McNamara's greatest disappointment and frustration is the Vietnam war. He once remarked to a visitor: "Who would have thought it would last so long?"

Foes used to call it "McNamara's war," but late last year some war policy critics found themselves anguished by the announcement that he was leaving the Pentagon. Belatedly, some of them came to regard him as a restraining influence on Johnson and the military chiefs.

Even his critics acknowledge McNamara achieved some brilliant reforms.

There is general acknowledgement that the fundamental alteration of the budgeting system and of management of the enormously complex Defense Department is McNamara's great monument.

Johnson referred to this Wednesday while bestowing what he noted was the highest award a President can confer on a civilian. "Bob McNamara may not have accomplished the impossible," Johnson said. "But he has achieved the unlikely; managing and directing the huge complexity that is our defense establishment."

U.S. Casualty List Hit Near Record High

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S Command reported today that American casualties last week reached the second highest toll of the Vietnam war with 470 men killed and 2,675 wounded.

The U.S. casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese forces which reported 434 government troops killed, 1,532 wounded and 135 missing or captured.

Both tolls were for the week ending last Saturday. Many of the casualties occurred in the heavy fighting in Hue, last city to be still contested, but now in allied hands.

The Communists thrust into Hue after they launched their lunar new year offensive Jan. 30 and 31.

Other allied forces reported 19 killed for a combined total of 923 deaths.

As against this total, allied forces reported killing 5,769 Communist soldiers last week.

The U.S. toll of 470 dead last week was exceeded in the previous week when 543 American servicemen were killed at the height of the February fighting to set a new high for the war.

Last week's total of 2,675 Americans wounded was less than 100 below the war's highest week, the first week in February when 2,757 U.S. troops sustained wounds.

Of the wounded last week, 1,330 men required hospitalization or about half the total. The rest were treated without being hospitalized and returned to duty.

Looking And Leaping

[illegible] with Leap Year traditions is [illegible] by anyone other than punsters, [illegible], birthday celebrators and editorial writers.

That was not always the case. A Scottish law of [illegible] that during each "lepe yeare" a maiden lady should "hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes."

Unless the man she tapped could prove he was betrothed to another, he had to accept her offer or pay a fine.

A similar law was enacted in France a few years later. By the 15th century, Florence and Genoa had adopted the custom.

Scottish women were required to show their intentions by wearing a scarlet petticoat with the edge exposed.

There is no clear explanation why the traditional wooing roles of the sexes were reversed on Leap Day.

There is, however, an excellent reason why maidens have permitted their prerogative to fall into disuse.

It is a matter of pragmatism.

Modern maidens are more subtle than their 13th century ancestors. They are busy every day of every year setting up the male of their choice. The great triumph comes when he — mistakenly thinking it is his idea — pops the question.

They have too much going for them to fall back on the Leap Day tradition to "bespeake ye man she likes."

Besides, how would it look to have a scarlet petticoat hanging out under a miniskirt?

Preventive Action

Industrialists and residents of the tri-state area are keeping an eye upon a proposed compact between Ohio and West Virginia for air pollution control in the Ohio Valley.

The importance of interstate cooperation in meeting the pollution problem is obvious when one considers the regional scope involved.

Mayor Frank Rybka of Weirton testified this week at a Washington hearing, "Although prevailing winds are west to east in our area, there are days when the wind swirls first west, then east, and our friendship with Steubenville and others on the Ohio side of the river includes the free exchange of each other's polluted air."

The U. S. Senate, before which the compact is currently being aired, should be made aware of the need for a workable plan to solve this sort of problem. As Mayor Rybka commented at the hearing, "This is the time to take preventive action."

President's Patch-Up Party

Secretary of State Dean Rusk's forthcoming public appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to discuss administration policy in Vietnam is being viewed in Washington as an attempt to damp down a growing dispute.

Committee Chairman Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has been the most consistent critic of the administration's handling of the war. He has been trying to get Secretary Rusk to testify in public on Vietnam policy for many months.

Sen. Fulbright finally wrote to President Johnson requesting the chief executive to order Mr. Rusk to appear. The President didn't respond directly to the letter, but Mr. Rusk's March appearance before the committee has been announced.

Secretary Rusk's previous position is a clue to how the session probably will go. He has steadfastly refused to be moved from his stand that a public airing of Vietnam decisions would not be in the national interest.

President Johnson apparently has applied pressure to have the public session set up to try and patch up the widening feud.

The smoothing-over hope is more wishful thinking than anything else.

Within the narrow confines of what the administration believes can be said in the national interest, what could Secretary Rusk possibly say that would satisfy Sen. Fulbright?

Committee members will be asking pointed questions and Mr. Rusk will be responding with the usual, well-rehearsed administration answers.

Sen. Fulbright is asking for an explanation, but he really wants is capitulation.

He has had a bellyful of Vietnam. He is hoping to use his committee to expose the weaknesses of President Johnson's Asian power play in hope of gaining support for a policy change.

The senator and his committee can't pull the job off alone, but they hope to put a big enough chink in the administration's armor to encourage other opposition.

The President's patch-up party has all the earmarks of being a flop.

Teachers Get 'F'

There has to be a more sensible way of solving a teacher-board of education dispute than the strike method attempted today at Pittsburgh.

Regardless of the stand of the teachers' union or the attitude of the board, contracts to provide instruction were signed by the faculty members, and they have a legal and professional obligation to serve the students.

The issue of collective bargaining is before the courts, an injunction has been issued, the public in general is opposed to the disruption of schools.

The teachers have every right to expect a bargaining provision with the board. They do not have a right to break faith with their employers — the public — by suspending the vital process of public education.

Tranquilizing A Riot Situation

[illegible] William C. Conner's theory that tranquilizing darts could be effective in control of riot situations is interesting in two ways.

There is the obvious humane principle. It certainly would make more sense to stop rioters with tranquilizers than bullets in mob situations where it is practical.

The threat of tranquilizing darts could possibly have a definite psychological effect on those facing it. A needle jab has been experienced by everyone. They can identify with the threat because they have experienced it — they know it is not pleasant. They would like to avoid it.

Most people have not experienced a bullet wound. This fact coupled with the intangible belief that bad things always happen to "the other guy" cause people to take the threat of being shot less seriously than might be expected.

A example of this theory is demonstrated in the effective use of police dogs. People who stand fast in the face of armed policemen will scatter post-haste when police dogs are released.

Most everyone has been chased — possibly bitten — by an ill-tempered dog. Individuals comprising a mob feel real fear of the dogs because they can identify with the threat.

It would be a fine thing if law enforcement officers could capitalize on the psychological factor that causes some people to pass out at the sight of a needle, to avoid wholesale killing.

Two Possible

A pending uncertainty of first-ranking importance concerns popular reaction from the onrushing military crisis in Vietnam.

What will happen in popular opinion and government policy if a military tragedy befalls the United States at Khe Sanh?

One strong element of opinion would react by demanding all-out recourse to nuclear warfare to avert the possibility of sweeping defeat in Vietnam.

Another element of opinion would react by demanding cessation of the grinding war in Southeast Asia and de-escalation of the U. S. military effort there.

No one is guessing that the latter element of opinion would stand a chance against the former element. The United States would not abandon its anti-Communist crusade in Asia until it had used nuclear weapons, for precisely the same reason it dropped A-bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki — to avert wholesale casualties among its own troops.

Reaction from use of nuclear weapons in this situation, however, would be vastly different from reaction after their use against the Japanese Empire in 1945. Then, the United States was contrite but unafraid. No possibility of retaliation existed. It hoped there never would be a repetition. It was confident there wouldn't need to be. It had a nuclear monopoly.

Today the possibility of retaliation exists. The Chinese People's Republic would try to retaliate. The Soviet Union would be eyed with redoubled apprehension. France has nuclear ability.

It would be borne in on the awareness of every knowledgeable human being that power to wipe out everything that is held dear, had been unleashed.

And this would have happened because a decision had been made in a muddle of historic confusion to pit the United States against an Asiatic force accused of being more Communist than nationalist and therefore inimical to U.S. welfare.

The onrushing crisis in the U.S. crusade in Vietnam will cause either a reaction of despair or desperation — and if it's desperation, the next great event of a frustrating war will be the use of nuclear weapons.

Purely Personal Observations

Everyone has his private way of measuring inflation, which is only another name for currency devaluation. Mine is to compare the $7½ I made an hour I made as a shovel wielder for a construction company with the new minimum wage of $1.60 an hour for the "working poor."

Everybody should know someone who could be offended by a story about a transplanted part of the human body that rejected the body, instead of vice versa—someone who can take a joke at the expense of the particular minority group which he is identified.

Newest memory game is to tick off the sensational TV shows that fizzled out. Latest is "Batman," being dissolved after a three-year run. Remember when everybody was talking about "Batman"? And what were those other shows that nobody mentions any more?

I am encouraged by new ideas in education, because they encourage me to believe I could have done better with them than I did with the old ideas which turned me against both my teachers and the subjects they taught, with few exceptions.

Labor Leaders Want Youth

WASHINGTON — 'Tis a pity Ponce de Leon got sidetracked at St. Augustine in his search for the fountain of youth. If he had traveled further in time and space he'd have come upon the labor movement—the only milieu in which a man can be middle-aged at 65.

Victor Riesel

This seriously disturbs today's labor leadership. There is a desperate generation gap.

Even the disciplined Teamsters who deliver so much to their members find they don't reach their newcomers. Meeting halls are empty. There's no common language.

Leaders such as the powerful Einar Mohn, chief of the brotherhood's Western Conference, are warning their fellow officers to stop discouraging or ignoring, "yes, even putting down those young fellows in our union who show a spark of imagination and leadership."

In skull session after skull session national labor leaders look gloomily at statistic:

The average age of the top echelons is 60 to 65. Yet, 25 per cent of all union members now are under 30. And 25 per cent of all rank and filers have belonged to unions for only five years or less.

Half the auto workers membership is under 30. Almost half of the nation's steel workers are in the same age bracket. I. W. Abel, United Steelworkers' president, told me recently that "you can't find a worker over 30 in the new Bethlehem plant outside of Gary and it employes many thousands."

Until last month there have been merely long discussions on "education, communication and participation" with the newer members who range from 16 to 26 in many unions.

THE DISCUSSIONS sprang from the inner push of the youngsters on the leadership. Whether it's in garbage or in the vast Bell Telephone system, the newer members keep pushing. Contract after contract agreement is overridden by the rank and file which only comes out to meetings at negotiation time.

But now the AFL-CIO leadership is swinging into action to close the age gap with credibility. They've launched a new youth education program to teach young members what a union means, what it has done for its dues payers—and presumably, that there cannot be anything like slot-machine unionism where one puts in, pulls the arm of the employers and hits the the jackpot everytime.

Strikes are getting longer and costlier. So is the sheer business of running a union. The United Steelworkers of America plans to raise its dues.

For today's youth, which knew no Mussolini, no Hitler, no Stalin, no depression, no 1941-45 war, not even Korea, this is petty cash. To the old leaders it is a traumatic sum.

So the AFL-CIO's Education Dept. is experimenting with a series of five pilot "schools." The first was held in Atlanta just the other day. It ran almost a week in a local hotel. Rank-and-file members—all under 30—were drawn in from most Southern states.

Next in line are similar projects at the University of Iowa (for the Midwest); the University of Oklahoma (for the Southwest); the Nationwide Inn at Columbus (for Ohio), and the University of Maryland (for the Northeast and the District of Columbia).

Beginning March 28, another school will run at Chicago's Hotel LaSalle. This is part of a Building and Construction, and Metal Trades Unions apprenticeship program. In some of these classes the point is to educate the disadvantaged so that the semiliterate can read blueprints and be upgraded.

But how do you tell proud workers their English is bad and their math needs development, because these are the "tools" of today's complex construction industry?

IN THESE CLASSES, actual construction tools are used to re-teach the English language: "Here is a pneumatic drill. Pneumatic is spelled. . . ." Then, "How would you fellows like to brush up on your English so you can read the instructions for the use of this lathe and this slide rule?"

The answer, at the apprenticeship classes, always is a rebounding "Yes."

The pilot projects and some of the apprenticeship schools are directed by AFL-CIO Education Director Walter Davis.

"Hopefully, we can gather enough data," said Davis, "to say to all our national unions: Here is the problem. Here is what we did. Here is what we learned by listening as well as teaching. Here is the gap. Here is the profile of the young members' attitude. Here is how to attack it."

When it's over this spring, Davis will analyze the results, prepare a document and dispatch it to unions with the generation gap jitters. Then the youth schools, "hopefully," will span the nation.

The campaign needs sparkle and imagination. Young unionists are searching for identity, not history.

If they take the wrong turn, they'll take with them a troika of powerful financial, industrial and political resources and reserves. It is as Einar Mohn, a tough Teamster, told his people:

"Today over 50 per cent of our population is 30 years or younger. From my observations and talks with many of today's youth, I've concluded that we just are not reaching them. They look for something more meaningful than we as trade unionists are offering.

"We must give them recognition and encouragement because leadership is not going to develop by itself. Let us be more willing and eager to help deserving youngsters. They, properly trained, will be the ones upon whom labor must depend for the successes of tomorrow."

Properly trained, that youth also can become the industrial realists of tomorrow—instead of the gimme, gimme (as we used to say) rank and file of today.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Nixon Myth

When possibilities for nomination for what in contemporary jargon is called the "awesome" responsibility of the presidency are considered, fitful "experts" never consider qualifications. Instead, they expound conclusions about who is most likely to be elected.

The word "image" is common. Currently when the name of Richard Nixon comes up, he is said to have a "loser image" and perforce cannot be elected. I have been told this by such panjandrums as a vice president and the handyman where I live.

I responded that I had enjoyed the advantages of professional concentration on politics for more than half a century and would be a fool to predict an election.

I might have added what I know about Nixon after an acquaintance going back to the Alger Hiss case 20 years ago and his two defeats. I could have mentioned how effectively this proposition about electability had been used in 1952 to destroy Robert Taft.

Defeat of Nixon in 1960 is a matter of serious doubt in the minds of those who know the facts.

When the electoral vote was broadcast at noon after the election, it indicated 303 for John Kennedy, 219 for Richard Nixon. Included in the Kennedy vote were 64 votes from Illinois, Texas and Missouri. There was manifest fraud in all three states. Kennedy, it was reported, carried Illinois by 8,858; Texas, by 46,233, Missouri by 9,980.

Nixon's defeat was subject to grave doubt. He was subjected to pressure on all sides to take legal action to contest the votes in those three decisive states. If proof were established to show Nixon had actually carried them, he would have been elected 283-239. If the more palpable fraud were proved in Illinois and Texas, Nixon still would have won by 270-252.

Nixon rejected the pressure to permit a legal contest and conceded. His reason was — and this I know — that such a contest would be projected far beyond the date for the inauguration of a new president. Normal operations of government would have been paralyzed. A makeshift arrangement would have had to be created to carry on vital foreign and domestic affairs.

No rational reason could be advanced in 1968 to disqualify Nixon from another nomination because of the hypothesis of inelectability.

His decision to run for governor in California in 1962 was made after a fierce contest between two sets of advisers. On one side were two of his most trusted friends, who had nothing to gain or lose. These two and others argued that in risking a test for state office he had everything to lose and little to gain.

His knowledge of and interest in California's problems had been greatly diminished because of long absences in Washington. Gov. Edmund Brown, with all his personal limitations, enjoyed a great advantage in his intimate knowledge of state affairs.

California's government would so occupy him, if elected, that he would have neither the time nor the capacity to maintain contact with the nation. The William Knowland campaign four years before had shown that the people of California did not want their state to be used as a step toward a presidential nomination.

Professionals in the party, on the other hand, argued that in order to seek the presidency in 1964 he would have to have what they called a "base" in his home state.

So Nixon made his choice and ran. It was a mistake and a defeat. But to use this six years later as a reason he could not be elected president if nominated is stretching things too far.

The record of success, considering the numbers of years he had been in politics, is a credit to him. One real defeat in seven campaigns should not bar anyone from another try.

Looking And Leaping

Its connection with Leap Year traditions is hardly noticed by anyone other than punsters, party-givers, birthday celebrators and editorial writers.

That was not always the case. A Scottish law of 1288 provided that during each "lepe yeare" a maiden lady should "hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes."

Unless the man she tapped could prove he was betrothed to another, he had to accept her offer or pay a fine.

A similar law was enacted in France a few years later. By the 15th century, Florence and Genoa had adopted the custom.

Scottish women were required to show their intentions by wearing a scarlet petticoat with the edge exposed.

There is no clear explanation why the traditional wooing roles of the sexes were reversed on Leap Day.

There is, however, an excellent reason why maidens have permitted their prerogative to fall into disuse.

It is a matter of pragmatism.

Modern maidens are more subtle than their 13th century ancestors. They are busy every day of every year setting up the male of their choice. The great triumph comes when he — mistakenly thinking it is his idea — pops the question.

Nixon's defeat was subject to grave doubt. He was subjected to pressure on all sides to take legal action to contest the votes in those three decisive states. If proof were established to show Nixon had actually carried them, he would have been elected 283-239. If the more palpable fraud were proved in Illinois and Texas, Nixon still would have won by 270-252.

Nixon rejected the pressure to permit a legal contest and conceded. His reason was — and this I know — that such a contest would be projected far beyond the date for the inauguration of a new president. Normal operations of government would have been paralyzed. A makeshift arrangement would have had to be created to carry on vital foreign and domestic affairs.

No rational reason could be advanced in 1968 to disqualify Nixon from another nomination because of the hypothesis of inelectability.

His decision to run for governor in California in 1962 was made after a fierce contest between two sets of advisers. On one side were two of his most trusted friends, who had nothing to gain or lose. These two and others argued that in risking a test for state office he had everything to lose and little to gain.

His knowledge of and interest in California's problems had been greatly diminished because of long absences in Washington. Gov. Edmund Brown, with all his personal limitations, enjoyed a great advantage in his intimate knowledge of state affairs.

California's government would so occupy him, if elected, that he would have neither the time nor the capacity to maintain contact with the nation. The William Knowland campaign four years before had shown that the people of California did not want their state to be used as a step toward a presidential nomination.

Professionals in the party, on the other hand, argued that in order to seek the presidency in 1964 he would have to have what they called a "base" in his home state.

So Nixon made his choice and ran. It was a mistake and a defeat. But to use this six years later as a reason he could not be elected president if nominated is stretching things too far.

The record of success, considering the numbers of years he had been in politics, is a credit to him. One real defeat in seven campaigns should not bar anyone from another try.

Chicago Involved In School Pupil Busing Dispute

CHICAGO (AP) — Half of a controversial school pupil busing proposal has been vetoed and the other half postponed by the Chicago Board of Education but busing advocates still see life in their project.

Hundreds of persons marched and carried signs as the board met Wednesday to vote on the plan, climaxing two months of public hearings, demonstrations and boycotts touched off when the board approved the busing concept in principle.

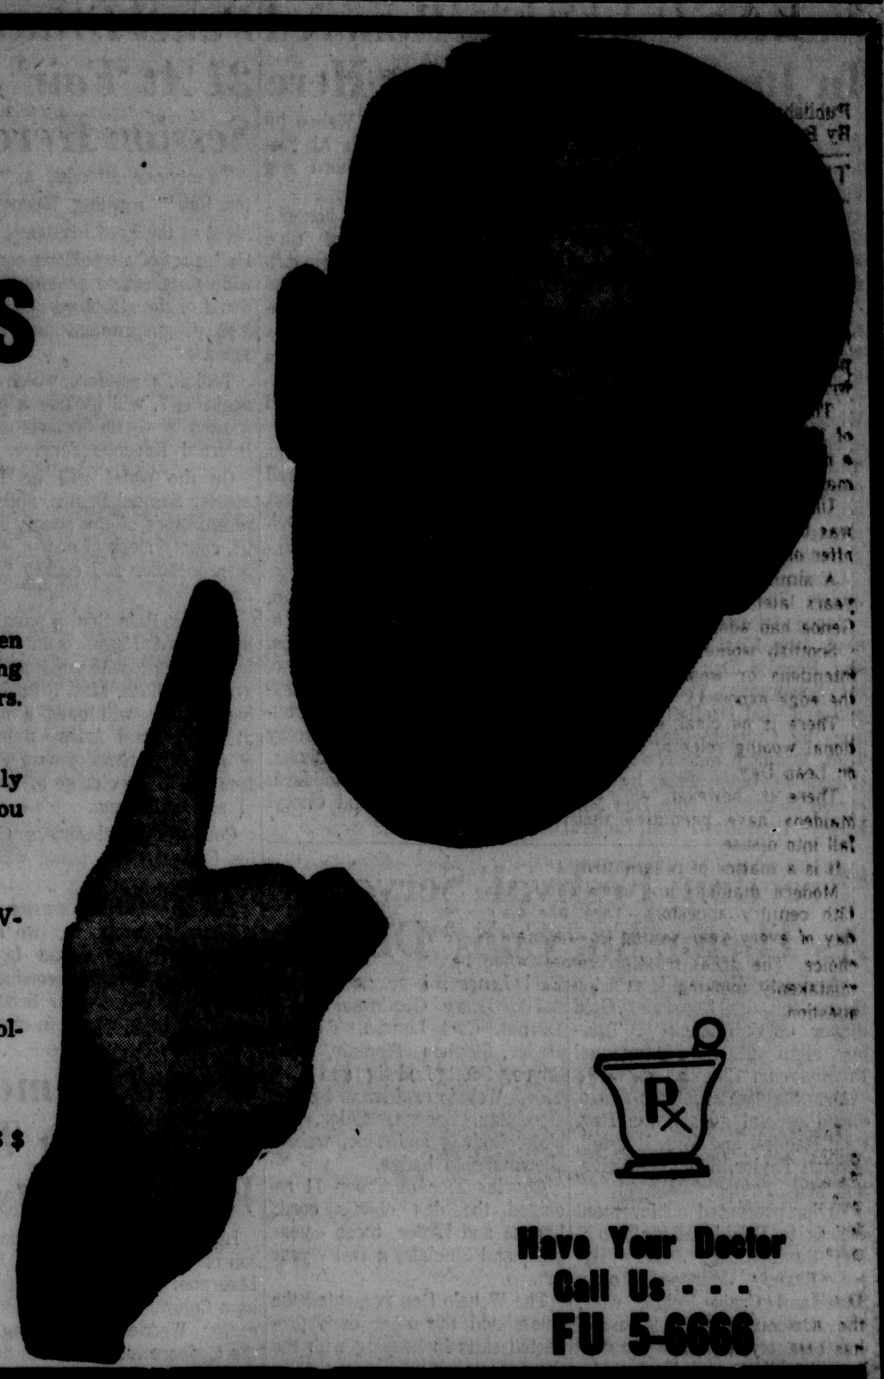

The proposal introduced in December was designed to relieve overcrowded inner city schools and promote integration. The project proposed to transport 1,035 pupils from predominantly Negro, overcrowded schools to some with vacant classroom space in nearby white neighborhoods.

The section of the plan which was to affect parts of the Northwest section of the city was vetoed by a tie vote. A majority vote was necessary to approve the plan.

The second section of the plan, affecting Chicago's South Shore area, was sent back to James F. Redmond, schools superintendent. The board directed him to work with residents of the South Shore to revise the plan and make it acceptable for implementation this fall.

Various Companies Honored In Junior Achievement Here

Four area Junior Achievement firms have won "A" awards for management efficiency during the 1967-68 fiscal year, Jerry Winstead, program director for the East Liverpool Junior Achievement organization, announced today.

The awards are given to teenage business enterprises "which successfully have met all program requirements during the first five months' operation," Winstead said.

These requirements include marketing full stock quotas, producing salable products, submitting monthly financial statements and competing for trade association and industry awards.

Citations were received by Japco, Jas, Pija and Webco.

Japco is counseled by Penney's, the First National Bank and Peoples Drugs, with Robert Bowersock, Thomas Wiegand and Ed Drotleff advisers; Jacs by Crucible Steel, with Tom Rodfong and Norman Bucher advisers; Pija, by Patterson Industries, with Don McKinley, Pete Boyd and Robert Brown advisers, and Webco by Mike Turk, Inc., with Al Fricano, Richard Silverthorn and Mike Cook advisers.

Japco also has been honored as "J.A. Company of the Month" because of "its efficiency in conducting business operations," Winstead announced.

The award is made under a point system based upon business organization, sales and attendance.

Other members of the organization are:

Romney

to work for the Romney cause. Chaffee wasn't hinting what he will do now, although he said it is possible moderate governors will line up behind Rockefeller.

"In no meeting here do I anticipate that when the meeting's over the governors are going to come out and say 'We united behind X'" Chaffee said.

Rockefeller said he had tried to persuade Romney not to withdraw.

Would the New York governor enter the race against Nixon if his fellow governors urge that course upon him?

"Let me wait and talk to them," Rockefeller replied.

The New Yorker's comments on conferences to ascertain the wishes of his colleagues implied that a substantial base of gubernatorial support might meet his terms for candidacy.

Romney's startling withdrawal set off a political shock wave that rolled from New Hampshire to Oregon.

Campaigning for New Hampshire's March 12 primary, Nixon said Romney "will play a major role in Michigan and the nation in assuring the Republican victory in November . . ."

We would of course welcome Gov. Rockefeller in the primaries," said Patrick Buchanan, a Nixon spokesman. Buchanan said Romney's withdrawal was testimony to Nixon's strength.

In Washington, where governors gathered for a round of conferences and White House briefings, Robert T. Ellsworth, executive director of the Nixon campaign organization, said the Romney move was a concession in advance, "a great victory for Mr. Nixon."

But it was not an unmixed blessing for the Nixon forces. Although Romney's name remains on the New Hampshire primary ballot, Nixon's virtually certain victory over a withdrawn rival will not have the impact of a triumph over an active contender.

"Certainly the New Hampshire primary is completely meaningless now," said Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, a Rockefeller supporter all along.

Agnew said he does not think Rockefeller will appear on any primary ballot, with the possible exception of Oregon's on May 28. As a candidate for the nomination four years ago, Rockefeller won that primary.

An Oregon organization striving to draft Rockefeller stepped up its efforts as Romney withdrew. "It is now imperative that Gov. Rockefeller respond to the draft movements in Oregon and across the country," said William J. Moshofsky, an organizer of that campaign.

There is a Rockefeller write-in drive under way in New Hampshire—despite the New Yorker's request that it not be launched—and that effort took fresh impetus from the Romney withdrawal.

Panel Draws 21 At 'Fair' Session Here

Twenty-one attended a "Winter Fair"' meeting Wednesday night at the East Liverpool City Hall, part of a weeklong county-wide program to acquaint residents of the structure and services of government and other agencies.

Tonight's session, which will begin at 7, will include a panel headed by Glenn Sprowls of the Internal Revenue Service.

On the panel will be Postmaster Samuel Brown, and representatives of the county sheriff, county clerk of courts, county prosecutor and county treasurer.

At East Palestine, a panel led by Donald Hepp, county welfare director, will speak and answer questions. Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, nurse, will head a panel at Lisbon, and Arthur Johnson of the Ohio Employment Services will be in charge of a panel at Columbiana.

County Commissioners Charles Gause and a panel will be at Salem.

Ten attended the session last night at Columbiana, two each at East Palestine and Lisbon and five at Salem, according to Robert Harris, Social Security manager here, who is in charge.

Board Names Thompson To Varied Posts

LISBON — J. Herbert Thompson of Vernon Dell Farms, East Liverpool RD 2, was sworn in as a Columbiana County fair director Wednesday evening at the Cooperative Extension Service office.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia RD 1, president, also appointed Thompson to head the grain, seeds, hay and grass silage department and as publicity chairman.

Thompson will serve this year, filling a vacancy created by the resignation of Richard F. Crawford of East Liverpool, who resigned to move to Mobile, Ala.

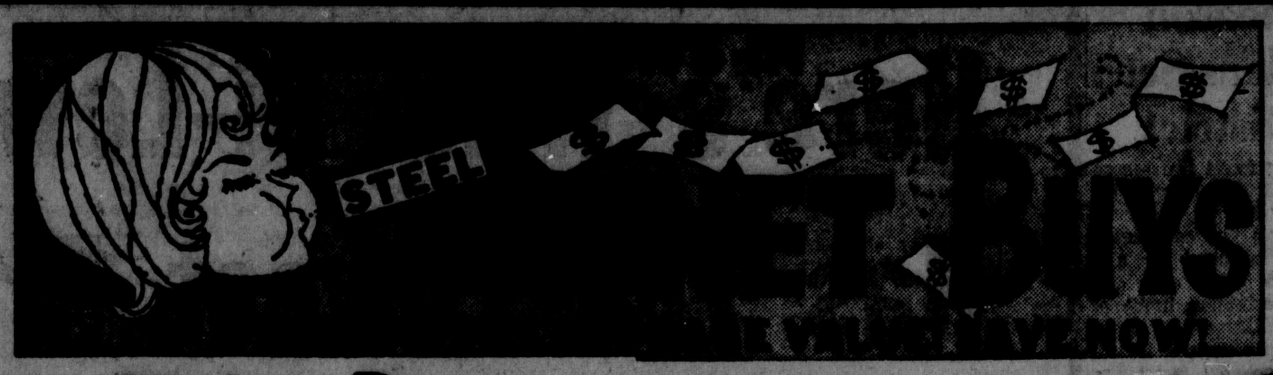

Crawford was elected to a three-year term last October. A member will be elected next October to complete the two years remaining on his term. The directors appointed Thompson to serve until the next election.

Weingart appointed William Werner of Salem to represent the fair directors on the county extension service advisory committee.

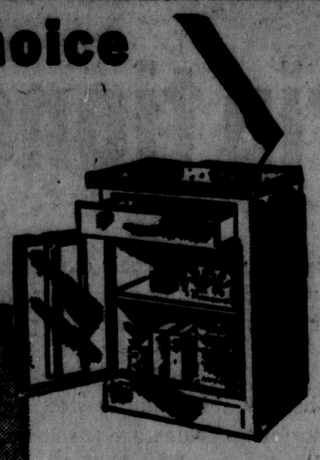

Lyle Printing & Publishing Co. of Salem, which printed the program and premium books last year, received the 1968 contract on a bid of $1,204 — the only proposal submitted. The order is for 850 premium books and 5,000 program books.

The next meeting will be March 27 at the extension office.

Ho Chi Minh, founder and first president of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam (North Vietnam), has twice changed his original name. As a young revolutionary in France, he chose the name of Nguyen Ai Quoc, which means "Friend of the People." In 1941, he changed it to Ho Chi Minh, which means "Brilliant One."

"Certainly the New Hampshire primary is completely meaningless now," said Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, a Rockefeller supporter all along.

Agnew said he does not think Rockefeller will appear on any primary ballot, with the possible exception of Oregon's on May 28. As a candidate for the nomination four years ago, Rockefeller won that primary.

An Oregon organization striving to draft Rockefeller stepped up its efforts as Romney withdrew. "It is now imperative that Gov. Rockefeller respond to the draft movements in Oregon and across the country," said William J. Moshofsky, an organizer of that campaign.

There is a Rockefeller write-in drive under way in New Hampshire—despite the New Yorker's request that it not be launched—and that effort took fresh impetus from the Romney withdrawal.

Panel Draws 21 At 'Fair' Session Here

Twenty-one attended a "Winter Fair'" meeting Wednesday night at the East Liverpool City Hall, part of a weeklong countywide program to acquaint residents of the structure and services of government and other agencies.

Tonight's session, which will begin at 7, will include a panel headed by Glenn Sprowls of the Internal Revenue Service.

On the panel will be Postmaster Samuel Brown, and representatives of the county sheriff, county clerk of courts, county prosecutor and county treasurer.

At East Palestine, a panel led by Donald Hepp, county welfare director, will speak and answer questions. Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, nurse, will head a panel at Lisbon, and Arthur Johnson of the Ohio Employment Services will be in charge of a panel at Columbiana.

County Commissioners Charles Gause and a panel will be at Salem.

Ten attended the session last night at Columbiana, two each at East Palestine and Lisbon and five at Salem, according to Robert Harris, Social Security manager here, who is in charge.

Board Names Thompson To Varied Posts

LISBON — J. Herbert Thompson of Vernon Dell Farms, East Liverpool RD 2, was sworn in as a Columbiana County fair director Wednesday evening at the Cooperative Extension Service office.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia RD 1, president, also appointed Thompson to head the grain, seeds, hay and grass silage department and as publicity chairman.

Thompson will serve this year, filling a vacancy created by the resignation of Richard F. Crawford of East Liverpool, who resigned to move to Mobile, Ala.

Crawford was elected to a three-year term last October. A member will be elected next October to complete the two years remaining on his term. The directors appointed Thompson to serve until the next election.

Weingart appointed William Werner of Salem to represent the fair directors on the county extension service advisory committee.

Lyle Printing & Publishing Co. of Salem, which printed the program and premium books last year, received the 1968 contract on a bid of $1,394 — the only proposal submitted. The order is for 850 premium books and 5,000 program books.

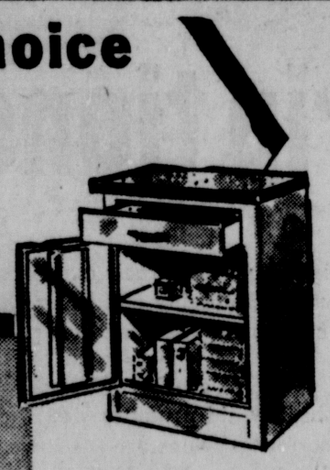

The next meeting will be March 27 at the extension office.

Ho Chi Minh, founder and first president of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam (North Vietnam), has twice changed his original name. As a young revolutionary in France, he chose the name of Nguyen Ai Quoc, which means "Friend of the People." In 1941, he changed it to Ho Chi Minh, which means "Brilliant One."

Motorist Cited As Auto Wrecks

SALINEVILLE — An area motorist was cited on three charges Wednesday as the result of an auto accident Tuesday about 8:30 p. m., Police Chief Gordon Sweeney reports.

Sweeney said Paul Miller, 50, of Salineville RD 1, was cited for "reckless operation, leaving the scene of an accident and driving without an operator's license" after his car went over a hill near the intersection of Routes 39 and 164.

Both cars were moderately damaged in a mishap on Route 29 at the west-end of Salineville Tuesday evening.

Sweeney said the accident occurred when a 1965 coach, operated by Lucille Roberts, 27, of Salineville RD 1, eastbound, went left of center on a curve on Route 39 and struck a 1968 sedan driven by Gary David Thomas, 18, of 202 E. Main St.

Cause Still Sought In Wednesday Fire

The cause has not yet been determined in the fire which destroyed the vacant McLaughlin homestead on Spur Rd., near Radio Heights, Wednesday morning.

Chalmer Gifford, assistant chief of the LaCroft volunteer department, indicated that it may be necessary to call in the state fire marshal.

Firemen from the Liverpool Township department remained at the scene until 5 p.m. yesterday, Gifford said.

Firemen from Wellsville, Glenmoor, Liverpool Township, east, and LaCroft helped battle the blaze. A pumper from the Liverpool Township, east, department remained at the LaCroft station to answer calls.

SIXTEEN PLAN to go to Harrisburg while the remainder will attend the county session, he said.

The MEA earlier asked the school calendar be changed to permit the teachers to have the day off. This was turned down by the board.

The Board of Education of the South Side Beaver Jointure Schools announced today release time has been granted the teachers in its system. There will be no schools in session Monday. The teachers will attend either the state or county meetings.

THE MIDLAND delegation to Harrisburg will leave by chartered bus at 7 a.m., and will meet at 3 p.m. in the assembly-room of the Methodist Church on State Street near the steps of the Capitol. The group will meet with Beaver County legislators and Sen. Ernest P. Kline to discuss needed salary adjustments for Pennsylvania's teachers.

The day — March 4, 1968 — has been designated "Action for Education Day," by the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

At Aliquippa, registration by districts will begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday. Speaking from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. will be Dr. Clara Cocherille, professor at Westminster College, "The Image of the Teacher;" David J. Kelly, news director of WIIC, Channel 11, "'A Newsman Looks at the Teacher;" Robert Felice, teacher, Monaca High School, and Terence Keegan,, teacher, Beaver Falls High School, "Presentation of House Bill 2039 (Salary Bill) and House Bill 1912 (Subsidy Bill)."

—:—

SPEAKERS AT the session beginning at 1 p.m. will include Rudolph Lawton, NEA regional field representative, "The Role, Rights, and Responsibilities of the Teacher in Our Society;" Dr. Charles A. Glatt, professor at Ohio State University, "P. R. and R. Investigations;" and Herbert Lauterbach, assistant executive secretary, Field Operations, PSEA, "Let's Get the Record Straight."

In a statement issued today, Pedumi advised, "'As members of an organization which is part of the PSEA, we feel we must support the Association. This decision to attend the seminars was not reached as a passing whim, but after much thought by our staff since the PSEA convention Feb. 10. We feel to preserve the PSEA we must take this action.

"We approached the board of directors of Midland Public Schools twice and wrote them letters with 38 signatures attached, requesting they change the school calendar to move a vacation day, or 'snow day,' from March 15 to March 4. We did not want merely a day off.

—:—

"AS A RESULT of not changing the calendar, we feel we must take the day off for personal business. Our 45 members will lose salary for the day and incur personal expenses amounting to approximately $2,000 in order to participate in the seminars. We are willing to sacrifice this much."

Pedumi said this is not a new teachers' movement, but consists of teachers of all levels of experience, including many with 35, 25 and 20 years' teaching experience.

He said the action of the MEA is not directed at the local board or at the community. "We realize the financial plight of our local board, and realize our local taxpayers are bearing the burden, and as teachers, we want the General Assembly to grant more funds; this is what we are fighting for. We want to keep Pennsylvania competitive with the surrounding states so we can provide quality education."

The term "Dark Ages" can be applied to the period from A.D. 400 to the A.D. 1000s.

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—Does hardening of the arteries of the brain run in families? What are the early symptoms? Would a blood count indicate this kind of trouble?

A—Hardening of the arteries runs in families only to the extent that long life runs in the family. It is usually a generalized process, so the first sign is often "pipe stem" arteries in the wrists or the appearance of calcification in the arteries on an X-ray film. An artery, even with advanced hardening, causes no symptoms so long as it is functioning.

When the opening in the diseased vessel in the brain becomes so narrow that the blood can't flow through readily or when a brittle artery becomes plugged with a blood clot or breaks the victim has symptoms that may be mild (little stroke) or severe (apoplexy).

The severity of the symptoms varies widely, depending on the severity and the part of the brain affected.

A blood count would not be helpful in establishing the diagnosis of arterial brain damage.

Q — What is the difference between concussion of the brain and a cerebral hemorrhage? Can a doctor tell the difference without X-rays?

A — A heavy blow on the head (concussion) may cause some crushing of brain tissue, hemorrhage or a skull fracture. In the milder cases, with no hemorrhage or fracture, the victim may lose consciousness for only a few seconds. On coming to, he may feel fine and go on about his business.

This is dangerous because after a few hours he may lose consciousness again, fall and incur a more severe injury.

This is because the brain, like any other tissue, swells following an injury but, since within the skull the room for expansion is very limited, the swelling may interfere with the brain's blood supply. Such a person should remain quiet for several hours.

A person may have a cerebral hemorrhage associated with his concussion or from a stroke or a gunshot wound. A doctor depends on the patient's history and physical findings rather than an X-ray to make the diagnosis unless a skull fracture is suspected.

Q — I am taking vasodilan and Dilantin for poor circulation in the brain. Could these drugs cause drowsiness?

A — These drugs would be more likely to have the opposite effect. Your drowsiness may be a result of your circulatory disease.

Session Due To End At Midnight

ConCon Facing Deadline On Court Reform Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Constitutional Convention, working under the pressure of a midnight deadline, was prepared to try again today to give final approval to a controversial court reform plan.

Convention officials had hoped to gain a slight edge on the clock by completing consideration of the judiciary proposal at a post-midnight session Wednesday.

That hope was dashed, however, when the convention's Style and Drafting Committee could not finish its job of editing the final version in time for the scheduled 11 p.m. session.

In addition to the judiciary proposal, convention delegates also must approve today a plan for submitting its recommendations to the state's voters in the April 23 Primary Election.

Officials said Wednesday they probably would try to have the convention's seven proposals presented in four ballot questions on 75 words each.

Before adjourning Wednesday, delegates gave final approval to a proposal designed to tighten tax exemption regulations.

The proposal, which had been hotly debated during earlier sessions, finally was passed on a 157-0 vote without discussion.

Under the proposal, the present constitutional exemptions granted to churches, public institutions and charitable organizations would be continued but narrowed by making use, rather than ownership, the basis for exemptions.

It also would require the state to return to all local municipalities a portion of the gross receipts tax it collects from public utilities.

The highly controversial, frequently amended judiciary proposal had threatened from the outset to wreck the convention's timetable.

The Judiciary Committee, which drafted the proposal, was three days late in getting the plan to the convention floor. Debate on the proposal lasted eight days.

Since the convention opened last Dec. 1, it has considered seven proposals designed to modernize four key articles of the state's 96-year-old Constitution. Other proposals already cleared concern local government, state debt, budget and audit procedures, size of the legislature and legislative apportionment.

Delegates stayed in session long past midnight twice this week in an effort to finish their job ahead of the deadline.

$257,500 Asked In Civil Actions

LISBON — A total of $257,500 is being sought in three civil actions filed in Common Pleas Court here as the result of alleged injuries received in traffic accidents.

And in another case, an East Palestine man who lost an eye as the result of a golfing accident is asking $50,000.

—:—

THE LARGEST claim, filed Wednesday, is that of Charles B. Costa of 7379 Gayview St., Louisville, Ohio — $54,000 for injuries suffered Dec. 14, 1966, on Route 62, about a mile east of the Route 173 junction, when his westbound car collided with an eastbound pickup truck driven by Paul R. Spack of Alliance.

The defendants are Spack and Delbert C. Wank of 960 Ellsworth Ave., Salem, who was driving a 1965 sedan east following Spack.

Costa claims the defendants pulled into the westbound lane to pass another eastbound vehicle and he had to drive onto the north berm to avoid a head-on collision. He said to avoid a concrete culvert he steered left, but the right wheels caught the edge of the pavement and his car veered left into the pickup.

Costa says he suffered severe abdominal injuries and was unable to carry on his work as a district salesman of drugs and medical supplies. His car was demolished.

PAUL AND Robberta Aronoff of Richardson Ave. are suing Frank J. Forzano of Harding Ave., East Liverpool, for $78,500 for injuries received May 8, 1967.

Their petition states that Aronoff was driving north on St. Clair Ave., with his wife as a passenger, that he stopped at Blackmore St. to make a left turn, and was hit from behind by the Forzano auto.

Mrs. Aronoff seeks $25,000 and her husband $53,500.

MERRIT SIMON of New Waterford has sued Raymond J. Nicolette of Pittsburgh and Erskine & Sons, Inc., of Mercer RD 5, Pa., for $25,000.

Simon said the accident occurred April 20, 1966, on E. State St., Salem, when he was driving east in a small van truck for the Cherry Hill Corp. He said he stopped for a traffic light and Nicolette, driving an eastbound tractor-trailer owned by Erskine, struck him from behind.

—:—

CLIFFORD Doll, 53, former East Palestine trucker who says he has had to take reduced earnings as an office clerk since the loss of his eye, sued one of his golf partners for $50,000.

The accident occurred April 22, 1967. Richard C. Brockman of East Palestine is the defendant.

Doll said he and Brockman and three companions were playing at the East Palestine Country Club near Negley and that Brockman "negligently and carelessly and without warning" drove a ball that hit him in the right eye. Doll said he was about 35 yards ahead of the spot where Brockman stood.

Old Coins Stolen In Entry Of Home

A discerning burglar escaped with some old coins, but abandoned a bushel basket full of groceries, in an entry Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ray Connell of 1163 Oakwood Ave., the family told police.

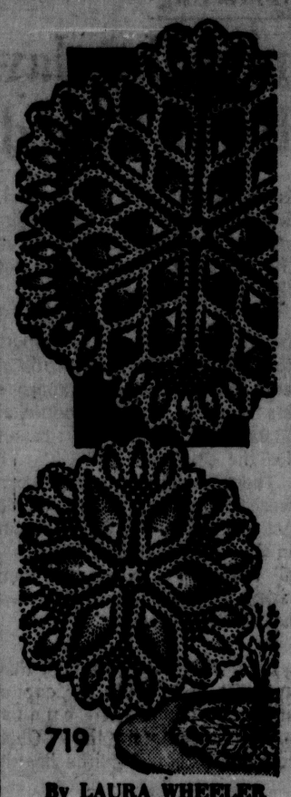

The loot included an uncirculated 1896 silver dollar, six to eight other silver dollars and an unknown number of Indian head pennies, as well as a portable television set. The intruder also removed the groceries from the home, but left them in a basket behind the garage.

The intruder left behind 10 frozen meatballs, a loaf of bread, a pound of sausage, ice cream and other miscellaneous items. Police said entry was gained by cutting a 3-x-6-inch section out of the back door and then reaching through the opening to manipulate the lock. Mr. and Mrs. Connell discovered the entry when they returned from Wellsville at 9 p.m.

Cabbage makes a good partner for corned beef, but so do parsnips and turnips and they bring a change.

Cuba Charges 'Warlike Act' In Ship Incident

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government charged today that U. S. Coast Guard vessels pointed cannons and used "a warlike maneuver" to interfere when a Cuban ship rammed a lifeboat in which three "traitor crewmen" were fleeing following a mutiny off the Virginia coast.

Radio Havana, in a broadcast monitored in Miami, carried a declaration from the Fidel Castro government's Foreign Ministry.

The declaration ended with a "most energetic protest against this new imperialistic Yankee aggression to grasp and protect this pirate-like action that violates the principles of freedom of the seas and international laws."

The ramming incident occurred Tuesday off the Virginia coast.

$257,500 Asked In Civil Actions

LISBON — A total of $257,500 is being sought in three civil actions filed in Common Pleas Court here as the result of alleged injuries received in traffic accidents.

And in another case, an East Palestine man who lost an eye as the result of a golfing accident is asking $50,000.

—:—

THE LARGEST claim, filed Wednesday, is that of Charles B. Costa of 7379 Gayview St., Louisville, Ohio — $54,000 for injuries suffered Dec. 14, 1966, on Route 62, about a mile east of the Route 173 junction, when his westbound car collided with an eastbound pickup truck driven by Paul R. Spack of Alliance.

The defendants are Spack and Delbert C. Wank of 950 Ellsworth Ave., Salem, who was driving a 1965 sedan east following Spack.

Costa claims the defendants pulled into the westbound lane to pass another eastbound vehicle and he had to drive onto the north berm to avoid a head-on collision. He said to avoid a concrete culvert he steered left, but the right wheels caught the edge of the pavement and his car veered left into the pickup.

Costa says he suffered severe abdominal injuries and was unable to carry on his work as a district salesman of drugs and medical supplies. His car was demolished.

PAUL AND Robberta Aronoff of Richardson Ave. are suing Frank J. Forzano of Harding Ave., East Liverpool, for $78,500 for injuries received May 8, 1967.

Their petition states that Aronoff was driving north on St. Clair Ave., with his wife as a passenger, that he stopped at Blackmore St. to make a left turn, and was hit from behind by the Forzano auto.

Mrs. Aronoff seeks $25,000 and her husband $53,500.

MERRIT SIMON of New Waterford has sued Raymond J. Nicolette of Pittsburgh and Erskine & Sons, Inc., of Mercer RD 5, Pa., for $25,000.

Simon said the accident occurred April 20, 1966, on E. State St., Salem, when he was driving east in a small van truck for the Cherry Hill Corp. He said he stopped for a traffic light and Nicolette, driving an eastbound tractor-trailer owned by Erskine, struck him from behind.

—:—

CLIFFORD Doll, 53, former East Palestine trucker who says he has had to take reduced earnings as an office clerk since the loss of his eye, sued one of his golf partners for $50,000.

The accident occurred April 22, 1967. Richard C. Brockman of East Palestine is the defendant.

Doll said he and Brockman and three companions were playing at the East Palestine Country Club near Negley and that Brockman "negligently and carelessly and without warning" drove a ball that hit him in the right eye. Doll said he was about 35 yards ahead of the spot where Brockman stood.

Old Coins Stolen In Entry Of Home

A discerning burglar escaped with some old coins, but abandoned a bushel basket full of groceries, in an entry Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ray Connell of 1163 Oakwood Ave., the family told police.

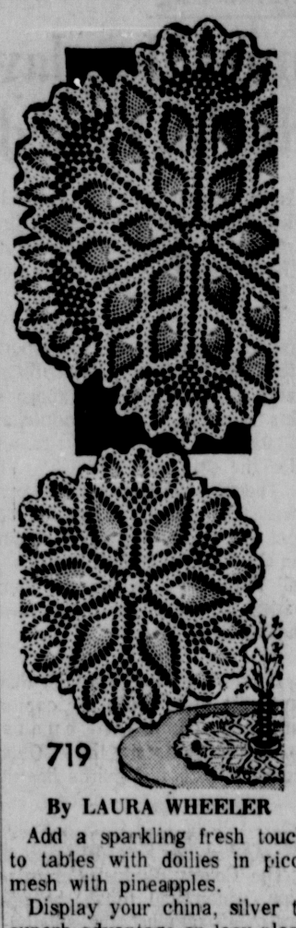

The loot included an uncirculated 1896 silver dollar, six to eight other silver dollars and an unknown number of Indian head pennies, as well as a portable television set. The intruder also removed the groceries from the home, but left them in a basket behind the garage.

The intruder left behind 10 frozen meatballs, a loaf of bread, a pound of sausage, ice cream and other miscellaneous items. Police said entry was gained by cutting a 3-x-6-inch section out of the back door and then reaching through the opening to manipulate the lock. Mr. and Mrs. Connell discovered the entry when they returned from Wellsville at 9 p.m.

Burglary

Testimony developed that Matheny, recovering from surgery on his foot, was on crutches. He said he does not have a driver's license, but is able to drive and "was instructed to take off if anyone comes."

Matheny said he and the other youths had been together from the evening of Dec. 13 until he was apprehended next morning at 4. He said they bought "some stuff" to drink at Ray's in East Liverpool, then went to three places in West Virginia — Terrace Lanes, the Jade Lounge and Win, Place and Show, drinking at each club. Matheny said he was "feeling good, but wasn't drunk."

Matheny testified his two companions tried to break in the Win, Place and Show after closing hours, but were frightened off when the owner fired a gun. The youth said the companions broke into the Petrosol Service Station here and got a race car kit before going to the service station in Calcutta.

The neat, well - dressed defendant was represented by G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, who called one witness—Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice of the East Liverpool police department. The officer read excerpts from the police log for Dec. 14.

It revealed that a Mr. Finley called at 8:35 a.m. to report his car had been stolen. It also showed a call from the Hancock County sheriff's office at 10:41 a.m. advising that John Finley had reported his 1964 Chevrolet was stolen from Terrace Lanes about 6 a.m.

There were three other related entries — at 3:45 a.m., someone in a 1964 Chevrolet passing around Petrosol; 3:46, referred above call, and 4:04, notified owner of Petrosol of a burglary.

Patrolman Leonard Hepinger of the Ohio Highway Patrol, who answered Wellman's radio call for assistance, took pictures at the scene. The photographs were entered as exhibits along with a four-arm tire wrench and a piece of pipe Matheny testified he saw the two youths remove from Finlay's car.

On the jury sworn in Wednesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp are Harry J. Couch, Elmer Skelton, Frances McGaffic and Millie McKinnon, East Liverpool; Kenneth Carter, Wellsville; Frank L. McIntosh, Salineville; Hilda Carlisle, Lisbon; Martha Kapp, Columbiana; Allen Ebersole, Leetonia; Eileen Ickes, Homeworth, and Katherine Schuster and Elaine Hickling, Salem, Donna Manfull, Kensington, is the alternate.

Card playing is of ancient origin. It has been recorded that cards were played in Egypt during the days of the Biblical Joseph, and that their use extended as far east as Hindustan and China at a period long before their introduction into Europe.

During Advisory Council Meeting

2 Will Be Named Monday To County's Health Board

LISBON — Two members will be elected to the Board of Health when the Columbiana County Health Advisory Council holds its annual meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in Health Department rooms at the Courthouse.

The terms of Fred Johnson of Summitville, board president, and Mrs. Roy Archibald of Homeworth RD 1 are expiring.

Johnson is completing a five-year term and Mrs. Archibald a one - year appointment. The board appointed her last April when Francis Bezdek of Elkrun Township, whom council had elected for a five - year term, resigned on a legal ruling that the board cannot have two members from the same township. Board member Glen Hawkins also resides in Elkrun Township.

—:—

HAWKINS' term will expire in 1969. Other board members, are Dr. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia physician, 1970, and Frank Murray, Lisbon RD 4 farmer, 1971.

The election Monday night will be for a five - year term and for a member to serve the four years remaining on Bezdek's term.

Don Sanor of Butler Township is chairman of the council, which is comprised of the chairmen of the boards of trustees of the 18 townships and mayors of the nine villages.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, will report to council on Health Department activities and ask it to approve his request for an additional $3,000 for general pay raises for the staff this year.

The 27 subdivisions last year were charged a total of $32,238 out of taxation for public health in the General Health District—all the county except the four cities which have their own health departments.

DR. SINGER said this amounts to 94 cents per capita and puts Columbiana County in 20th place among the 21 Ohio counties with full - time health departments. Last - place Clermont County gets only 82 cents per capita for public health.

The County Budget Commission, which will make the assessments against the subdivisions once council gives approval, said increases over last year's charges would vary from an additional $3.52 per year for Rogers to $536.70 for Fairfield Township.

Miss Pat Wyche Chosen Winner In Area Contest

Miss Pat Wyche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wyche of 161 Pennsylvania Ave., placed first in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Negro Women's Business and Professional Organization in conjunction with "Negro History Week."

Open to the public, the 15 contestants chose their subject on Negro history, including famous Negro personalities or the history in general.

Miss Wyche's topic was "Freedom's Challenge."

Miss Terry Smith of Freedom, second - place winner, reviewed "The Negro's Contribution to the American Society."

Mrs. Carol Thompson of Rochester, president of the organization, conducted the event at the Second Baptist Church in Rochester.

Judge Metes Out Fine To Wrong-Way Driver

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today decreed a fine of $10 and costs for a 76-year-old East End woman who admitted driving the wrong way on the four - lane Freeway segment in West End.

Mrs. Elsie Carlson of 805 Ohio Ave. was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Feb. 22 at 1:40 p.m., accused of driving north in the south - bound lanes of the Freeway between W. 3rd St. and the Route 7 exit ramp. The patrol reported southbound autos "were swerving right and left to miss her."

After setting the fine, the judge commented: "I imagine you got a $50 scare out of this experience." The woman replied: "More than that!"

CIC Discusses Bridge Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western Maryland Railroad Co., with 870 miles of track in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, has been permitted to merge with the Baltimore & Ohio-Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad system, the Interstate Commerce Commission announced Wednesday.

The final action upholds a tentative agreement reached March 6, 1967.

The B&O has been a major stockholder in Western Maryland since 1932 but was barred from voting its stock by the ICC. The C&O also owned part of Western before being absorbed into the B&O system. The resulting combination controls more than 64 per cent of the Maryland railroad's voting stock.

Effective date of the transfer is 30 days from now.

Burglary

Testimony developed that Matheny, recovering from surgery on his foot, was on crutches. He said he does not have a driver's license, but is able to drive and "was instructed to take off if anyone comes."

Matheny said he and the other youths had been together from the evening of Dec. 13 until he was apprehended next morning at 4. He said they bought "some stuff" to drink at Rayl's in East Liverpool, then went to three places in West Virginia — Terrace Lanes, the Jade Lounge and Win, Place and Show, drinking at each club. Matheny said he was "feeling good, but wasn't drunk."

Matheny testified his two companions tried to break in the Win, Place and Show after closing hours, but were frightened off when the owner fired a gun. The youth said the companions broke into the Petrosol Service Station here and got a race car kit before going to the service station in Calcutta.

The neat, well - dressed defendant was represented by G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, who called one witness—Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice of the East Liverpool police department. The officer read excerpts from the police log for Dec. 14.

It revealed that a Mr. Finlay called at 5:55 a.m. to report his car had been stolen. It also showed a call from the Hancock County sheriff's office at 10:41 a.m. advising that John Finlay had reported his 1954 Chevrolet was stolen from Terrace Lanes about 6 a.m.

There were three other related entries — at 3:45 a.m., someone in a 1954 Chevrolet messing around Petrosol; 3:46, referred above call, and 4:04, notified owner of Petrosol of a burglary.

Patrolman Leonard Hephner of the Ohio Highway Patrol, who answered Wellman's radio call for assistance, took pictures at the scene. The photographs were entered as exhibits along with a four-arm tire wrench and a piece of pipe Matheny testified he saw the two youths remove from Finlay's car.

On the jury sworn in Wednesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp are Harry J. Couch, Elmer Skelton, Frances McGaffic and Millie McKinnon, East Liverpool; Kenneth Carter, Wellsville; Frank L. McIntosh, Salineville; Hilda Carlisle, Lisbon; Martha Kopp, Columbiana; Allen Ebersole, Leetonia; Eileen Ickes, Homeworth, and Katherine Schuster and Elaine Hickling, Salem, Donna Manfull, Kensington, is the alternate.

During Advisory Council Meeting

2 Will Be Named Monday To County's Health Board

LISBON — Two members will be elected to the Board of Health when the Columbiana County Health Advisory Council holds its annual meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in Health Department rooms at the Courthouse.

The terms of Fred Johnson of Summitville, board president, and Mrs. Roy Archibald of Homeworth RD 1 are expiring.

Johnson is completing a five-year term and Mrs. Archibald a one - year appointment. The board appointed her last April when Francis Bezdek of Elkrun Township, whom council had elected for a five - year term, resigned on a legal ruling that the board cannot have two members from the same township. Board member Glen Hawkins also resides in Elkrun Township.

—:—

HAWKINS' term will expire in 1969. Other board members, are Dr. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia physician, 1970, and Frank Murray, Lisbon RD 4 farmer, 1971.

The election Monday night will be for a five - year term and for a member to serve the four years remaining on Bezdek's term.

Don Sanor of Butler Township is chairman of the council, which is comprised of the chairmen of the boards of trustees of the 18 townships and mayors of the nine villages.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, will report to council on Health Department activities and ask it to approve his request for an additional $3,000 for general pay raises for the staff this year.

The 27 subdivisions last year were charged a total of $32,238 out of taxation for public health in the General Health District—all the county except the four cities which have their own health departments.

DR. SINGER said this amounts to 84 cents per capita and puts Columbiana County in 20th place among the 21 Ohio counties with full - time health departments. Last - place Clermont County gets only 82 cents per capita for public health.

The County Budget Commission, which will make the assessments against the subdivisions once council gives approval, said increases over last year's charges would vary from an additional $3.52 per year for Rogers to $536.70 for Fairfield Township.

Judge Metes Out Fine To Wrong-Way Driver

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today decreed a fine of $10 and costs for a 76-year-old East End woman who admitted driving the wrong way on the four - lane Freeway segment in West End.

Mrs. Elsie Carlson of 805 Ohio Ave. was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Feb. 22 at 1:40 p.m., accused of driving north in the south - bound lanes of the Freeway between W. 3rd St. and the Route 7 exit ramp. The patrol reported southbound autos "were swerving right and left to miss her."

After setting the fine, the judge commented: "I imagine you got a $50 scare out of this experience." The woman replied: "More than that!"

CIC Discusses Bridge Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western Maryland Railroad Co., with 870 miles of track in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, has been permitted to merge with the Baltimore & Ohio-Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad system, the Interstate Commerce Commission announced Wednesday.

The final action upholds a tentative agreement reached March 6, 1967.

The B&O has been a major stockholder in Western Maryland since 1928 but was barred from voting its stock by the ICC. The C&O also owned part of Western before being absorbed into the B&O system. The resulting combination controls more than 64 per cent of the Maryland railroad's voting stock.

Effective date of the transfer is 30 days from now.

The letters OAS stand for the Organization of American States.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a male who used to laugh at my wife because she always turned to your column first thing and quoted from it. I'm ashamed to admit I made fun of her — and of you, too. Now I'm eating a big chunk of humble pie and it serves me right. I need your help.

Our daughter is 9 years old and small for her age. Yesterday, as she was going from her bedroom to the bathroom, I noticed she was wearing a bra. I did a double take — couldn't believe it. That kid doesn't have anything to put in a bra and the whole idea is ludicrous.

I went downstairs and asked my wife what it was all about.

"Oh," she replied, "Harriet's best girl friend has started to wear a bra and she feels very left out. I bought her one for emotional support."

I told my wife I thought she was cuckoo. She told me to mind my own business. I said I was going to write to Ann Landers. She replied, "Go ahead, Ann will be on my side." How about it? Where do you stand? — GOGGLE-EYED.

-:-

Dear Geg: Not with a 9-year-old flat-chested kid and her cuckoo mother. The way to give pre-adolescent girls emotional support is to help them enjoy being 9 years old. They should be taught to wait for adult accessories until the time is right. A brassiere can be a symbol of other things and in this instance the symbolism is all too clear.

Tight-Lipped

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from the soon-to-be-married girl wanting to know if she should confess all in regard to her past. She wanted to enter her marriage "with a clear conscience." You advised her to volunteer nothing and if he asks tell him, "Take me as I am or not at all."

That was excellent advice and I hope she listens. Too bad you weren't writing your column 16 years ago.

May I say a word to every conscience-stricken girl who wishes to unburden herself:

Keep your silly mouth shut—unless you're willing to pay for it for the rest of your life. I married a rigid, unbending Puritan after confessing an indiscretion which occurred when I was 16.

We've been married 14 years and not a single day passes that he doesn't remind me that I was a tramp when he married me. Every time I look at a man he accuses me of something rotten. "If you did it once, you'd do it again."

He's made me feel totally inadequate as a love partner and I've become completely passive in order to protect myself against future accusations. I don't dare show any enthusiasm for his love-making because he wants to know where I learned "that trick."

Two years ago I discovered the Great White Knight had fallen from his horse. I caught him having an affair with a woman at work. His defense was, "I'm entitled to do as I please because you did."

Please, Ann, continue to advise girls to keep their lips buttoned if they want to have a happy married life. Telling everything one knows is not a sign of honesty. It's a sign of stupidity. — SORRY.

-:-

Dear Sorry: Thank you for your letter. The last two sentences are gems. Are you listening, students?

Confidentially

To I'm For You, Peachy: You're right. Too clean is as sick as too sloppy. Moderation makes the best sense. If I had to settle for one extreme or the other, I'd sooner live with someone who's too clean.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rockefeller Entrance Into Race

Nixon Camp Now Waits For Other Shoe To Drop

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's camp reacted today to the withdrawal of Gov. George Romney from the race for president with a comment by a Nixon aide who said: "Now we are waiting for the other shoe to drop."

Translated, this means Nixon is waiting to see whether Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will now enter the field as his chief rival for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller, disavowing interest in becoming the Republican candidate — or wanting to be president—had been backing Romney's candidacy.

Notwithstanding, Nixon has consistently felt that Rockefeller is a candidate.

The former vice president and Romney had been battling it out to win the New Hampshire presidential primary, March 12.

Nixon's assistants believe Romney dropped out of the race because polls taken within the last few days indicated that Nixon was on the way to an overwhelming victory in New Hampshire and far ahead of Romney nationally.

Nixon, genuinely surprised, declined to discuss the startling development with reporters covering his campaign. He issued a brief statement which said:

"Gov. Romney has waged an energetic and vigorous campaign. I am sure that, as one of the nation's outstanding Republican governors, he will play a major role in Michigan and the nation in assuring the Republican victory in November which is so essential to provide the new leadership America needs."

Patrick Buchanan, one of Nixon's top lieutenants, was asked whether he thought Romney's action robbed Nixon of the opportunity to destroy his "loser image" by a dramatic victory in New Hampshire.

"Quite the contrary," said Buchanan. "We think we have gotten rid of the loser. The fact that Romney withdrew was a demonstration of Nixon's strength."

With regard to Rockefeller, Buchanan said, "Now we are waiting for the other shoe to drop. We would of course welcome Gov. Rockefeller as an opponent in the primaries."

This is consistent with Nixon's position since he announced his candidacy of Feb. 1.

He said then, "The decisive winner of the primaries will and should be nominated. His ideas and ability should be tested in the fire of the primaries, not simply kept in the grandstand and then submitted to the tender mercies of the kingmakers."

Romney's name remains on the ballot in New Hampshire. The ballots already have been printed and Robert Stark, New Hampshire secretary of state, said the governor's name cannot be removed.

Rockefeller has considerable support in New Hampshire, although he asked his backers not to take any actions on his behalf. Nonetheless, they are running as delegates favorable to his candidacy.

Nixon says he believes Rockefeller will receive 20 to 25 per cent of the vote in the presidential preference side of the ballot. Furthermore, Rockefeller has until March 1 to enter the Wisconsin presidential primary, the nation's second and larger test.

Nixon said his basic strategy in his campaign for the nomination has not changed. He planned for two appearances in Hanover and Lebanon on Thursday.

Rockefeller has considerable support in this general area, which includes Dartmouth College, of which Rockefeller is a graduate.

providing pay raises for members of the legislature and all judges and elected county officials in Ohio.

But a series of amendments, including one to take legislators out of the bill, sent it to a subcommittee which worked behind closed doors several hours.

As it passed the Senate, the bill would raise the pay of House and Senate members from $8,000 to $13,500 a year.

In other rapid fire developments, the Senate Judiciary Committee sounded the death knell to a controversial bill that would outlaw cash and merchandise giveaways such as those offered at service stations and supermarkets. Members said they needed more time for study.

Earlier, the Senate added its approval to a House measure creating an Ohio Water Development Authority to combat water pollution.

Under the bill, a seven-member authority could issue bonds for construction of pollution control facilities.

Senators gave unanimous approval to a bill that would permit an activated Ohio Building Authority to issue bonds for construction of state office buildings. Those bonds would be sold to the workmen's compensation trust fund and retired with rents paid by various departments using the facilities.

Sponsoring Sen. Robert R. Shaw R-16 Columbus said tentative plans are for either a 17-story or 11-story skyscraper on the site of the present Statehouse Annex. The building would contain space for legislature offices and some state departments.

By a 28-0 vote, the Senate approved a House bill prohibiting sale, possession, or use of sawed-off shotguns and rifles. The bill provides stiff penalties — 1-5 years for sale or transfer and 1-10 years for ownership or possession.

The measure must go back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

Senators agreed to House changes and completed enactment of three other bills. They permit cities to levy an income tax up to 1½ per cent by a bare majority vote at primary and general elections (55 per cent now is required), authorize creation of scenic river areas to qualify for federal beautification funds, and authorize counties to contract for ambulance service.

The House completed passage of bills to:

— Authorize counties to issue hospital revenue bonds, affording immediate help for Oberlin, Willard, and Mahoning Valley hospitals.

— Empower the presiding judge of a municipal or county al court to set vacation periods and provide for temporary replacements.

— Authorize the Ohio Supreme Court and appellate courts to appoint counsel for indigent defendants seeking appeals from felony convictions.

— Lower from 70 to 50 per cent of evaluation the tax assessment rate on goods manufactured in one Ohio county but stored in another.

— Allow school districts to issue anticipatory notes while awaiting initial proceeds from voter-approved tax levies.

— Permit local subdivisions to renew notes periodically after expiration of the five-year statutory limit—an act sponsors said will help Mansfield finance a parking garage now entangled in court actions.

killed was on a combat mission when it was hit shortly after noon Wednesday by heavy automatic weapons fire. The chopper crashed and exploded between Khe Sanh and Camp Carroll, the U.S. artillery post 16 miles northeast of the big Marine fortress.

The Air Force C130 cargo plane, a $2.5-million work horse of the war, and the other two helicopters were downed near the Song Be airfield 100 miles northeast of Saigon.

Field reports said the C130 was hit by a bazooka-type rocket as it approached the runway to land. The plane made a crash landing and burned but no casualties were reported.

The two helicopters were able to land safely after being hit.

The F105 Thunderchief lost Wednesday was the 868nd U.S. warplane downed in combat over the North. The U.S. Command said ground fire brought it down over North Vietnam's southern panhandle. A "jolly green giant" helicopter made the 1,008th combat rescue of the war when it lifted the pilot, Capt. Gene I. Bazal, 31, of Lakeside, Calif., from enemy territory unhurt.

The U.S. Command also reported that American casualties last week—479 killed and 2,675 wounded—were the second highest of the war, while Communist casualties totaled 5,709 killed, also one of the higher weekly tolls although not a record.

As the mopup after the Red offensive continued, South Vietnamese Army troops uncovered a mass grave containing about 100 bodies on the eastern outskirts of Hue today. Official sources said many of the victims had been executed and their bodies mutilated.

The sources told AP correspondent John Lengel in Da Nang it appeared that those in the grave had been killed by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who during the four-week offensive occupied much of Hue. U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops finally regained control of the city, Vietnam's former imperial capital, after nearly a month of hard fighting.

Lt. Col. Pham Van Khoa, the mayor of Hue and government chief of Thua Thien Province, reported earlier that the Communists had executed 200 persons in the same general area where the mass grave was found today. At least 500 persons, most of them civilian official and military men, were reported missing when the Hue government began to reassert its control on Feb. 25.

Political commissars who accompanied the Communist forces in Hue were known to have dossiers listing many officials earmarked for assassination.

Fighting and enemy shelling continued in a 25-mile arc around Saigon.

Troops of the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division, aided by U.S. helicopter gunships, reported killing 126 Viet Cong 12 miles northwest of the capital in an eight-hour fight Wednesday. Government losses were put at five dead and 28 wounded.

The 25th Division has had the poorest reputation in the South Vietnamese army, and a new commanding general took it over six weeks ago.

Other South Vietnamese infantrymen launched a multibattalion operation 12 miles south of Saigon this morning against enemy troops massing the capital from that direction. The government forces reported 21 enemy and four government men killed.

Communist mortars for the second day attacked the South Vietnamese military academy five miles north of Saigon, at Thu Duc. A government spokesman said 40 rounds were fired into the camp and 10 houses were damaged, but no one was sclosure under the new system is $1,695,775, representing the "accrued liability" which the state agency claims the municipality must pay to make the system financially sound.

The state took over all the municipal retirement systems more than a year ago. Previously, they were administered locally.

The state has ordered cities to begin making annual payments to the pension fund, effective in 1969, to cover the "accrued liability." The payments would continue yearly for nearly 40 years.

East Liverpool Council's resolution, similar to others enacted throughout the state, called upon the Legislative Service Commission to "make a study to consider alternatives to the full - finding requirements."

Hearing Set On Copestick

LISBON — The Ohio Adult Parole Authority will conduct a hearing Friday morning in Columbus on an application for commutation of a death sentence handed down in Columbiana County 15 months ago.

Present will be the four lawyers involved in the Common Pleas Court trial of Charles Copestick, 26, formerly of East Liverpool, who has been in "Death Row" at Ohio State Penitentiary since November 1966.

A jury convicted him of first-degree murder in the pistol slaying of his pregnant wife, Rebecca May, 19, of June 19, 1966, near East Liverpool. She was shot five times in the head with a .22-caliber target pistol as the couple sat in a parked car. The jury did not recommend mercy.

Execution was deferred on three occasions as Copestick's counsel — Donald Shay and G. William Brokaw, both of East Liverpool — appealed to Seventh District Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court. The high court twice rejected a defense motion for a review of the case. After the last rejection in December, counsel filed an application with the adult parole authority for reduction of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and James D. Primm Jr., former assistant prosecutor, will attend for the state.

28 Students Await College Board's Test

LISBON — Twenty-eight area high school students have registered for the college entrance examination board's scholastic aptitude test Saturday morning at Lisbon High School.

Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and test supervisor, said 14 students will take the achievement and writing sample tests in the afternoon.

Principal George M. Nace Jr. will assist. The last of five "college board" examinations scheduled here this school year will be given May 4, Monda said.

Tax 'Break' Due Firms In Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's Commission on Civil Disorders will recommend that tax incentives be granted industry to enlist its aid in combatting unemployment in the slums.

Republicans in Congress have repeatedly advocated such a move, but their legislation has been firmly resisted by the Johnson administration and by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the House's strong man on tax legislation.

Sources disclosed the commission's tax incentive recommendation soon after the 11-member panel completed and unanimously approved its massive report on the riots that rocked the nation last summer.

The bulky document, to be issued this weekend, will be "uncomfortable for everybody, not just the government," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman.

Under the commission's recommendation, tax incentives would be given industries that located plants in slums and depressed areas. Similar incentives would go to firms that undertook programs to train unemployed slum residents.

Two Schools Reopen With Repairs To Main

IRONDALE — Classes were resumed today at Stanton Local High School and the Hammondsville Elementary School following repair to a 6-inch water main which broke Tuesday afternoon.

School Supt. C. P. Henderson said the main was repaired Wednesday afternoon and water pressure is back to normal.

The Ohio Department of Education will determine if the time missed by the 450 students at the high school and the 90 students at the elementary school must be made up, Henderson said.

Some good cooks who use wooden paddles for making butter balls find the paddles work well when they are soaked in ice water long enough to chill them thoroughly before they are used.

A "jolly green giant" helicopter made the 1,000th combat rescue of the war when it lifted the pilot, Capt. Gene I. Basel, 31, of Lakeside, Calif., from enemy territory unhurt.

The U.S. Command also reported that American casualties last week—470 killed and 2,675 wounded—were the second highest of the war, while Communist casualties totaled 5,769 killed, also one of the higher weekly tolls although not a record.

As the mopup after the Red offensive continued, South Vietnamese Army troops uncovered a mass grave containing about 100 bodies on the eastern outskirts of Hue today. Official sources said many of the victims had been executed and their bodies mutilated.

The sources told AP correspondent John Lengel in Da Nang it appeared that those in the grave had been killed by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who during the lunar new year offensive occupied much of Hue. U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops finally regained control of the city, Vietnam's former imperial capital, after nearly a month of hard fighting.

Lt. Col. Pham Van Khoa, the mayor of Hue and government chief of Thu Thien Province, reported earlier that the Communists had executed 300 persons in the same general area where the mass grave was found today. At least 500 persons, most of them civilian official and military men, were reported missing when the Hue government began to reassert its control on Feb. 25.

Political commissars who accompanied the Communist forces in Hue were known to have dossiers listing many officials earmarked for assassination.

Fighting and enemy shelling continued in a 25-mile arc around Saigon.

Troops of the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division, aided by U.S. helicopter gunships, reported killing 125 Viet Cong 12 miles northwest of the capital in an eight-hour fight Wednesday. Government losses were put at five dead and 28 wounded.

The 25th Division has had the poorest reputation in the South Vietnamese army, and a new commanding general took it over six weeks ago.

Other South Vietnamese infantrymen launched a multibattalion operation 18 miles south of Saigon this morning against enemy troops menacing the capital from that direction. The government force reported 21 enemy and four government men killed.

Communist mortars for the second day attacked the South Vietnamese military academy five miles north of Saigon, at Thu Duc. A government spokesman said 40 rounds were fired into the camp and 10 houses were damaged, but no one was killed.

edness under the new system is $1,095,778, representing the "accrued liability" which the state agency claims the municipality must pay to make the system financially sound.

The state took over all the municipal retirement systems more than a year ago. Previously, they were administered locally.

The state has ordered cities to begin making annual payments to the pension fund, effective in 1969, to cover the "accrued liability." The payments would continue yearly for nearly 60 years.

East Liverpool Council's resolution, similar to others enacted throughout the state, called upon the Legislative Service Commission to "make a study to consider alternatives to the full - finding requirements."

Hearing Set On Copestick

LISBON — The Ohio Adult Parole Authority will conduct a hearing Friday morning in Columbus on an application for commutation of a death sentence handed down in Columbiana County 15 months ago.

Present will be the four lawyers involved in the Common Pleas Court trial of Charles Copestick, 26, formerly of East Liverpool, who has been in "Death Row" at Ohio State Penitentiary since November 1966.

A jury convicted him of first-degree murder in the pistol slaying of his pregnant wife, Rebecca May, 19, of June 19, 1966, near East Liverpool. She was shot five times in the head with a .22-caliber target pistol as the couple sat in a parked car. The jury did not recommend mercy.

Execution was deferred on three occasions as Copestick's counsel — Donald Shay and G. William Brokaw, both of East Liverpool — appealed to Seventh District Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court. The high court twice rejected a defense motion for a review of the case. After the last rejection in December, counsel filed an application with the adult parole authority for reduction of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Prosecuting Attv. J. Warren Bettis and James D. Primm Jr., former assistant prosecutor, will attend for the state.

28 Students Await College Board's Test

LISBON — Twenty - eight area high school students have registered for the college entrance examination board's scholastic aptitude test Saturday morning at Lisbon High School.

Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and test supervisor, said 14 students will take the achievement and writing sample tests in the afternoon.

Principal George M. Nace Jr. will assist. The last of five "college board" examinations scheduled here this school year will be given May 4, Monda said.

Tax 'Break' Due Firms In Jobless Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's Commission on Civil Disorders will recommend that tax incentives be granted industry to enlist its aid in combatting unemployment in the slums.

Republicans in Congress have repeatedly advocated such a move, but their legislation has been firmly resisted by the Johnson administration and by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the House's strong man on tax legislation.

Sources disclosed the commission's tax incentive recommendation soon after the 11-member panel completed and unanimously approved its massive report on the riots that rocked the nation last summer.

The bulky document, to be issued this weekend, will be "uncomfortable for everybody, not just the government," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman.

Under the commission's recommendation, tax incentives would be given industries that located plants in slums and depressed areas. Similar incentives would go to firms that undertook programs to train unemployed slum residents.

Two Schools Reopen With Repairs To Main

IRONDALE — Classes were resumed today at Stanton Local High School and the Hammondsville Elementary School following repair to a 6-inch water main which broke Tuesday afternoon.

School Supt. C. P. Henderson said the main was repaired Wednesday afternoon and water pressure is back to normal.

The Ohio Department of Education will determine if the time missed by the 450 students at the high school and the 90 students at the elementary school must be made up, Henderson said.

Some good cooks who use wooden paddles for making butter balls find the paddles work well when they are soaked in ice water long enough to chill them thoroughly before they are used.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: I wonder if all of you who have a deep-fat fryer with a basket really know how many things they can be used for besides just frying?

I remove and cook delicious soups, smothered steaks and anything in the fryer part. But the greatest idea of all is to use the basket for other things. . .

The basket may be used in your other pots and pans. When you boil potatoes for mashing, or carrots, etc., take the basket and put it in your regular pan, fill it with water, then place your washed vegetables inside the wire gadget part.

When the vegetables are done, instead of putting the lid on the pot and pouring all the boiling water down into your sink (which is quite dangerous), just remove the pot from the stove and put it in your sink. Then lift out the wire basket which contains all the boiled vegetables.

Now turn on your cold water faucet (this is to prevent steam burns) and pour the boiling water from the pot down the drain. Then pour the vegetables back into your pan and mash or whip as usual!

If you don't have a deep-fat fryer with a basket, why don't you go to your dime store and buy just a wire basket with a handle which will fit some of your most-used pans, especially the one you boil potatoes and carrots in? They're not expensive.

I know you think I am telling you to throw away a few dimes but it's not so. Just wait until you use it and you won't be without it!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To clean my rolling pin, I put about a half teaspoon of salt in my hand and just rub the rolling pin until it comes clean. This only takes about a minute.

Then I wipe the rolling pin with a paper towel.

"WELLS".

DEAR HELOISE: The other day I scorched my best white linen tablecloth. I was just sick.

One of my neighbors came to my rescue.

She cut a raw onion in half and rubbed the scorched part with the flat side of the onion until the onion juice was thoroughly absorbed into the cloth, then let it set awhile.

She soaked the cloth in cold water for a few hours and laundered as usual.

Do you know what? The stain left!

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to tell every new bride to make her own cookbook from a binder-type notebook and put all of her favorite recipes in it.

Over the years this will become a very pleasant book of memories.

My daughter says the recipes I've given her mean so very much. As she scans through her book and reads certain recipes, she remembers coming home and smelling this or that which she loved so well when growing up.

This beloved cookbook eventually becomes a many-generation cookbook and heirloom to be handed down.

A similar suggestion was advanced by State Rep. H. Francis Kennedy of Butler County. He suggested the possibility of charging tolls on interstate highways so that more funds can be diverted to regional road building and maintenance work.

Plan For Tolls On Pa. Roads, Bridges Studied

A similar suggestion was advanced by State Rep. H. Francis Kennedy of Butler County. He suggested the possibility of charging tolls on interstate highways so that more funds can be diverted to regional road building and maintenance work.

East Liverpool, Wellsville Meet In Semi-Final Tonight

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

After some confusion, it has been decided officially that the winner of the Steubenville AA basketball sectional will meet the winner of the Martins Ferry sectional in the first round of the district tournament at Steubenville March 8-9.

The New Philadelphia and New Concord sectional winners will clash in the other game. Last year the Steubenville and New Concord winners met in the first round. The pairings shift every year.

Martins Ferry observers think that Bellaire St. John's, with Allen Hornyak and Co., has a good chance to beat Martins Ferry to win that sectional. The Purple Riders are hampered by a leg injury to Dave Reasbeck, their high scorer. Reasbeck played only one minute when Martins Ferry was edged by Steubenville last week. Reasbeck suffered the injury the last play of the game against East Liverpool, when he collided with Mike McVay.

Zanesville seems certain to win the New Concord sectional, while the New Philadelphia sectional is up for grabs, with no team too strong. Claymont is a slight favorite.

THE OPENING round of the Steubenville sectionals Tuesday night produced some bad basketball. Steubenville Central was the only team to play well, the other five teams looking very ragged. Steubenville Big Red especially was off its game, and only a big lift by Lucius Treadway, a 6-4 leaper just up from the reserves, carried Chuck Watt's team past Wintersville. The Warriors hustled, but made too many turnovers and missed too many foul shots.

"Steubenville won't play that badly against us," said Central coach John Nese wistfully. They won't play that badly against East Liverpool either, John, if the teams meet.

Toronto's red, white and blue uniforms reminded me of shredded wheat boxes. The Red Knights didn't have the height to compete with the tall Central team.

At one time during the Steubenville-Wintersville game Big Red had only four players on the floor and at another time Wintersville had six. Gary Smith of Steubenville turned an ankle and limped off the court, without a sub going in. Wintersville scored before an upset Watt could call time out. Later, Ken Dixon entered the Warriors' lineup and no one went off. This cost Lee Patrone's club a technical foul.

East Liverpool didn't play Tuesday night, but Tom Chambers was announced as entering the Central-Toronto game. The P. A. announcer looked at the East Liverpool lineup instead of the Toronto lineup.

Mt. Pleasant and Bridgeport, in the Class A tournament, both have 6-3 juniors named Mark Thompson.

FOR THOSE interested in such things, Tom Clark of Weirton scored the final points in Memorial Auditorium, on two foul shots. The last field goal went to Dale Jones of East Liverpool.

A CHECK OF the rebounding figures during the year shows that East Liverpool was outrebounded in only one game, the 55-39 win over Pittsburgh Westinghouse. Ed Fleming's team had a 50-46 board margin. On the season, the Potters are averaging 52.7 rebounds to 35.7 for their opponents.

LOU JULIAN, Steubenville Central's fine linebacker, has signed a four-year grant-in-aid with the University of Pittsburgh.

Under normal circumstances the East Liverpool High School basketball team would be a 30-point favorite over Wellsville's cage squad, but tonight's game at 7 at the Steubenville Arena is hardly normal circumstances.

The game is a semi-final of the Steubenville Class AA basketball tournament, and East Liverpool does not have the reputation of being a good tournament team. Wellsville has already played one tournament game, beating Jefferson Union 65-55, and may have gotten over the tournament jitters that could plague the Potters in their tournament opener.

The two teams are neighborhood rivals, but do not meet in the regular season, as East Liverpool is considered a little higher class than the Buckeye Border Conference Tigers. The game is a chance for Wellsville to uphold the honor of the conference, as every other member dropped its initial tourney start.

A further incentive for Wellsville is that there will be a school holiday Friday if the Tigers win. ("We'll take a 30-day holiday — and may never come back — if we lose," jokes East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell.)

"Everybody is pointing for us," notes McConnell, whose team is top-seeded in the tournament with a 17-1 record. Wellsville is 9-10 after its opening round win. "We'll play them one at a time", says McConnell, and reports that his team is not looking past Wellsville to Saturday's final against the winner of the Steubenville-Steubenville Central contest.

Wellsville coach Bob Dawson says "We aren't going out there and give up, but I don't see how anyone can beat East Liverpool". Dawson promises he won't stall with the ball as Wellsville did last year against East Liverpool, but Wellsville is expected to slow the game down. The Tigers almost lost their lead against Jefferson Union when they tried to run with the Yellowjackets.

Wellsville's ace is Tom McClain, who is averaging 16.3 points a game and about the same number of rebounds. Jerry Wyse, a fine outside shot, is averaging 12.8. The other guard is Paul Hood, who has been in-and-out this season, while Mark Powell, the other forward, is a strong rebounder. Dan Sedor, the center, has not scored much this year. Terry Kornbau is the top backcourt reserve and Aaron Roach the top reserve for the front line.

"We're a good rebounding team for our height," says Dawson, but he knows that the 6-2 Sedor, 6-1 McClain and 6-0 Powell will have their hands full with 6-6 Mitchell Jones, 6-5 Bruce Christian and 6-4 Jerry Christian of the Potters. Mike McVay, 6-1, and 5-8 Earl Diddle round out the Potters' starting lineup, with Rick Steffen and Bill Montgomery, both 6-1, the top reserves. McConnell reports that Diddle and McVay had slight cases of strep throat earlier in the week (as did Hood and Roach of the Tigers), but otherwise the Potters are ready.

"If Wellsville is up, really up, and East Liverpool has a bad night, Wellsville could beat them", muses a Tiger backer. "But it will probably be such a slaughter for East Liverpool that I may not even go," she concludes sadly.

Ursuline Edges East Palestine

A lay-up with 10 seconds to go by Mike Yatsko gave Youngstown Ursuline a 65-64 win over East Palestine in the AA basketball tournament at Youngstown South last night.

Ursuline will meet Youngstown South, a 71-61 winner over Boardman, in the bracket finals tomorrow night.

East Palestine led 62-56 with three minutes to go, but kept losing the ball on turnovers and Ursuline was able to overcome the margin. The Bulldogs had rallied from a 30-36 halftime deficit.

Dan McKinstry paced the losers with 30 points and Joe Lewis added 14. Lewis also grabbed 20 rebounds as East Palestine had a 56-45 rebounding edge.

Bennie Allison had 20 points and John Kane 16 for the winners, now 9-9 on the season. East Palestine ended 16-4.

Farrell Nips Aliquippa In Section 3 Playoff

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Farrell High School, which has won more PIAA basketball championships than any other school, has taken the first step to another.

The Steelers hung on to nip Aliquippa 52-51 Wednesday night, win the WPIAL Section 3 championship and advance to the quarter-finals of the District 7 Class A tournament.

It was the 11th straight victory for Farrell, 19-4, which will meet Valley next Monday. Aliquippa bowed out with an 18-5 mark.

The game was tied 11 times and the lead changed hands 17 times before Farrell took command.

Bill Champman's three-point play put the Steelers ahead for good after Aliquippa, nursing a one point lead failed to score on three successive one-and-one foul situations. Aliquippa missed 14 of 27 foul shots.

Farrell won without Coach Eddie McCluskey who has directed them to six WPIAL titles and five state championships. He's recuperating from surgery in a New York hospital but sub coach Sam Jankovich had no trouble spotting the key play.

"The turning point was Chapman's three - point play" he said simply.

Dave Johnson paced Farrell with 18 points and Bill Lee scored 14. For Aliquippa, Jesse Stewart hit for 16 and Lee Roy Bowie 14.

California eliminated Knoch 64 — 50 in a 7-B quarter-final game that opened the doubleheader watched by 5,692 at the Pitt Field House.

Marty Foster scored 19 as the Trojans, 18-5, advanced to a semi-final date against Tarentum.

Andy Popelas scored 17 and Tom Gedda 10 for California while Fred Rothen paced Knoch with 15.

Peggy Fleming Has Big Lead In World Skating

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — United States defending champion and Olympic gold medalist Peggy Fleming zoomed into a huge lead after the first two compulsory figures today in the battle for the 1968 world figure skating title.

Peggy, the 19-year-old beauty from Colorado Springs, Colo., totaled 319.2 (159.6 159.6) for the figures, a counter left forwards inside and a paragraph three right forward outside.

Beatrix Schuba of Austria took a surprise second place with 298 (148.4, 149.6) ahead of East German Olympic silver medal winner Gabriele Seyfert with 294 (147.6, 146.4).

Olympic bronze medalist Hana Maskova of Czechoslovakia totaled 290.4 (148.8, 141.6) for fourth. Two further compulsories were slated to start shortly afterwards.

Albertina Noyes, 19, of Arlington, Mass., was sixth with 272.4 (138.8, 133.6) and Janet Lynn, 14, of Rockford, Ill., was 13th with 260.0 (131.6, 128.4).

Pirates Undergoing Psychological Tests

By The Associated Press

Black is to white as night is to: A — Green. B — Day. C — Evening. D — Morning. Pick one.

Psychologist testing, long a method for gaining insight into students, job applicants and draftees is being adopted to baseball.

Anxious to learn all they can about their athletes, Pittsburgh officials invited Dr. Tom Tutko, a San Jose State psychologist, to administer a motivational test to the Pirates.

Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates, said several pro football teams have used the tests, long a favorite of large companies across the country.

"I want to emphasize," said Brown, "that our sixth place finish has nothing to do with our club taking the tests. If we had won every game last year and won the World Series in four games, I still would have suggested the tests."

Brown says the tests were designed for club officials to learn more about the Pirates, and Gil Hodges, new manager of the New York Mets, has learned something about his club in the few days since training began.

The Mets, Hodges learned, don't have a third baseman.

"We've got to come up with one," said Hodges. "Anytime you use more than two men at one position, you're in trouble."

New York used 11 men at third base in 1967 and finished 10th, which is trouble.

Alvin Dark, another new manager who inherited an eighth place Cleveland team, said only first baseman Tony Horton and third baseman Max Alvis are assured of regular jobs with the Indians.

Tony Conigliaro, Boston's slugging outfielder, put in a lengthy batting drill against the pitching machine and pronounced his left eye 100 per cent fit. Conigliaro missed the last six weeks of the 1967 season when he was struck in the face by a pitched ball.

"My eye is perfect," said Conigliaro: "There is no blur whatsoever. I can't wait to gets at live pitching."

Conigliaro gets that chance today.

Atlanta pitcher Clay Carroll suffered a broken left ankle while running in the outfield and will be out for a month to six weeks.

South Carolina Upsets Third-Ranked Tarheels

By The Associated Press

Wouldn't it be something if unranked South Carolina won the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball championship tournament and snatched an NCAA tournament berth away from third-ranked North Carolina and 10th-ranked Duke?

Such a possibility, far fetched only a week ago, moved out of the realm of dreams Wednesday night when the Gamecocks snapped North Carolina's 20-game winning streak 87-86 in the spotlight of a busy night in college basketball.

It was another feather in the cap of Coach Frank McGuire and made the Gamecocks a factor to be reckoned with in the ACC tourney next week. Only five days ago South Carolina upset Duke 86-80.

North Carolina is the runaway leader in the conference, but the tournament decides the NCAA bid.

Bob Cremins, a 150-pound 6-foot-3 sophomore from New York City, paced the Gamecocks with a career high of 23 points and 15 rebounds.

Down 46-33 at the half, South Carolina rallied to go ahead by nine points, then held off the Tar Heels' late surge led by Larry Miller with 26 points.

Duke, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to play, rebounded from its South Carolina defeat to whip North Carolina State 71-61 at Raleigh. Mike Lewis led the Blue Devils with 20 points and 18 rebounds.

Calvin Murphy, Niagara's 5-10 soph star, the No. 2 scorer in the nation, was held to his college low of 15 points as the Purple Eagles lost in overtime at home to Syracuse 50-49.

Long Island, the No. 1 small college team in the AP poll, and St.. Peters, N.J., each accepted invitations to the National Invitation Tournament, upping the NIT field to seven with seven selections still to come.

The announcement was made at halftime of the Long Island-St. Peters game in Jersey City, N.J. St. Peters then went on to hand Long Island its first defeat of the season 70-59, ending a 20-game winning streak.

In other games involving tournament-bound teams, Oklahoma City of the NIT whipped Centenary 114-85 at home behind Rich Travis' 44 points. Chicago Loyola of the NCAA downed Western Michigan 85-73 at home. Virginia Tech, also at home, downed Bowling Green of the NCAA 77-71.

Boston College, NCAA-bound, scored on the road over Duquesne of the NIT 104-88 in a rough game that saw Moe Barr of the Dukes and Terry Driscoll of Boston College ejected for fighting.

Dayton made it nine straight by clobbering St. Joseph's of Indiana 99-66 at home and Iowa state missed tying Kansas State for the Big Eight lead by losing on the road to Colorado 91-76.

Kauffmans Finish 3rd In Skating

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Three American youngsters stole the show in the world figure skating Championships Wednesday and Tim Wood is determined to stay in the spotlight.

Wood, 19-year-old law student from Bloomfield Hills, Mich., surged back into the running for the men's title with two brilliant final compulsory figures.

The brother and sister team of 19-year-old Cynthia and 21-year-old Ronald Kauffman of Seattle turned in a scintillating display to finish third in the pairs championship and prevent an unprecedented 1-2-3 triumph for Russia.

Ludmila Beloussova and Oleg Protopopov won their fourth straight pairs championship for Russia with nine ordinals and 315.9 points. Tatiana Zhuk and Aleksander Gorelik of Russia finished second with 19 ordinals and 311.5 points.

The brilliant Kauffmans collected 31 ordinals and 304.3 points to snatch third place away from Tamara Moskvina and Aleksei Mischin of Russia, who finished with 35 ordinals and 303.6 points.

Wood regained the lead over Emmerich Danzer, Austria's defending champion, in the all-important ordinal judging with 13 to Danzer's 16, although he still trailed Danzer in points by a narrow margin. Wood has 1,139.9 points to Danzer's 1,139.2.

Cager Waterman Charges Discrimination At Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A University of Dayton Negro basketball player said Wednesday he no longer gives "maximum effort" in games because he feels he has been discriminated against.

Rudy Waterman, a senior, said he has experienced discrimination from both teammates and athletic department officials.

Other Negro students also complained of racial discrimination on the Dayton campus.

Waterman said he and Glinder Torain, another Negro player, would come off the bench as sophomores and juniors "and play our hearts out, saying that next year things would be better."

Waterman also charged that the coaches have failed to give him the pats on the back he said he needed for inspiration to play his best. He said he had tried to talk to Coach Don Donoher, but had gotten no response.

Thomas J. Frericks, Dayton athletic director, said of Waterman's charges, "I am shocked to hear that some of our athletes feel they have been treated unfairly."

"Intercollegiate athletics is an extremely competitive activity and there are bound to be some that are unhappy because they are not playing. If the problem goes deeper than this, they know that I am always available to look into these matters for them," Frericks said.

Donoher had no comment.

Torain was present for the panel discussion, but made no specific comment as to the treatment of basketball players.

Maravich On Verge Of Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Maravich, the hot-shooting soph star of Louisiana State, needs just five more points in his last two games against Tennessee and Vanderbilt to set a record average for one season in major college basketball.

The latest weekly statistics, released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services, show Pisol Pete still the nation's leading scorer with an average of 45.9 points on 1,079 points in 24 games. The record average is 41.7 set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954.

Calvin Murphy, Niagara's soph star, stayed in second place behind Maravich with an average of 39.6. Elvin Hayes of Houston, who scored 61 points against Valparaiso last week, also retained third at 38.7. Bob Portman of Creighton is fourth at 39.2.

Joe Allen of Bradley kept on top in field goal percentage at .663. Joe Heiser continues to lead in free throw accuracy with 105 of 115 for 9.13 per cent.

Neal Walk of Florida regained the lead in rebounding from Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky.

Small College Cage Poll Top Spot Up For Grabs

By The Associated Press

Election day in The Associated Press' final small-college basketball poll of the season will be held next week and a lot probably will depend on what happens this Saturday night.

Three of the top five ranking teams will end their regular campaigns then. LIU, the leader picked for the NIT Wednesday night, goes against another NIT-bound team, Duquesne. Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 2, plays Tennessee-Martin while Illinois State, No. 5, takes on Wayne State.

Third-ranked Pan American and Southwestern Louisiana, in fourth place, already have completed their seasons.

LIU's spread is not insurmountable. The Blackbirds lead Kentucky Wesleyan by 27 points. They accumulated 152 points, including 80 for eight first-place votes, in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday.

Kentucky Wesleyan had 125 points and was named the top team on three ballots. A total of 17 sports writers and broadcasters on a national panel participated in the balloting, which was based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

1.	Long Island U. (8)	152
2.	Kentucky Wesleyan (3)	125
3.	Pan American	99
4.	Southwestern La. (2)	88

Duke, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to play, rebounded from its South Carolina defeat to whip North Carolina State 71-61 at Raleigh. Mike Lewis led the Blue Devils with 29 points and 18 rebounds.

Calvin Murphy, Niagara's 5-10 soph star, the No. 2 scorer in the nation, was held to his college low of 15 points as the Purple Eagles lost in overtime at home to Syracuse 50-49.

Long Island, the No. 1 small college team in the AP poll, and St.. Peters, N.J., each accepted invitations to the National Invitation Tournament, upping the NIT field to seven with seven selections still to come.

The announcement was made at halftime of the Long Island-St. Peters game in Jersey City, N.J. St. Peters then went on to hand Long Island its first defeat of the season 70-59, ending a 20-game winning streak.

In other games involving tournament-bound teams, Oklahoma City of the NIT whipped Centenary 114-95 at home behind Rich Travis' 44 points. Chicago Loyola of the NCAA downed Western Michigan 85-73 at home. Virginia Tech, also at home, downed Bowling Green of the NCAA 77-71.

Boston College, NCAA-bound, scored on the road over Duquesne of the NIT 104-88 in a rough game that saw Moe Barr of the Dukes and Terry Driscoll of Boston College ejected for fighting.

Dayton made it nine straight by clobbering St. Joseph's of Indiana 99-66 at home and Iowa state missed tying Kansas State for the Big Eight lead by losing on the road to Colorado 91-76.

Cager Waterman Charges Discrimination At Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A University of Dayton Negro basketball player said Wednesday he no longer gives "maximem effort" in games because he feels he has been discriminated against.

Rudy Waterman, a senior, said he has experienced discrimination from both teammates and athletic department officials.

His remarks came during a question and answer session following a student panel discussion on "Black Student Views of UD," part of a week-long program on "Crises in Black and White."

Other Negro students also complained of racial discrimination on the Dayton campus.

Waterman said he and Glinder Torain, another Negro player, would come off the bench as sophomores and juniors "and play our hearts out, saying that next year things would be better."

Waterman also charged that the coaches have failed to give him the pats on the back he said he needed for inspiration to play his best. He said he had tried to talk to Coach Don Donoher, but had gotten no response.

Thomas J. Frericks, Dayton athletic director, said of Waterman's charges, "I am shocked to hear that some of our athletes feel they have been treated unfairly."

"'Intercollegiate athletics is an extremely competitive activity and there are bound to be some that are unhappy because they are not playing. If the problems are deeper than this, they know that I am always available to look into these matters for them," Frericks said.

Donoher had no comment.

Torain was present for the panel discussion, but made no specific comment as to the treatment of basketball players.

Maravich On Verge Of Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Maravich, the hot-shooting soph star of Louisiana State, needs just five more points in his last two games against Tennessee and Vanderbilt to set a record average for one season in major college basketball.

The latest weekly statistics, released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services, show Pisol Pete still the nation's leading scorer with an average of 45.0 points on 1,079 points in 24 games. The record average is 41.7 set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954.

Calvin Murphy, Niagara's soph star, stayed in second place behind Maravich with an average of 39.8. Elvin Hayes of Houston, who scored 62 points against Valparaiso last week, also retained third at 36.7. Bob Portman of Creighton is fourth at 30.2.

Joe Allen of Bradley kept on top in field goal percentage at .665. Joe Heiser continues to lead in free throw accuracy with 105 of 115 for 9.13 per cent.

Neal Walk of Florida regained the lead in rebounding from Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky.

Small College Cage Poll Top Spot Up For Grabs

By The Associated Press

Election day in The Associated Press' final small-college basketball poll of the season will be held next week and a lot probably will depend on what happens this Saturday night.

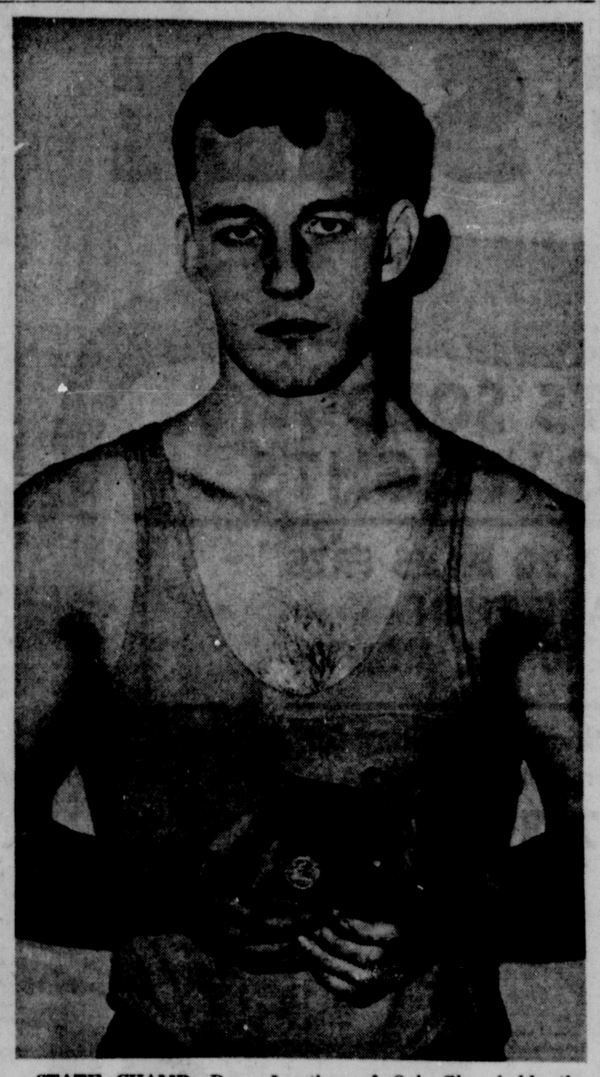

Three of the top five ranking teams will end their regular campaigns then. LIU, the leader picked for the NIT Wednesday night, goes against another NIT-bound team, Duquesne. Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 2, plays Tennessee-Martin while Illinois State, No. 5, takes on Wayne State.

Third-ranked Pan American and Southwestern Louisiana, in fourth place, already have completed their seasons.

LIU's spread is not insurmountable. The Blackbirds lead Kentucky Wesleyan by 27 points. They accumulated 152 points, including 80 for eight first-place votes, in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday.

Kentucky Wesleyan had 125 points and was named the top team on three ballots. A total of 17 sports writers and broadcasters on a national panel participated in the balloting, which was based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Pirates Undergoing Psychological Tests

By The Associated Press

Black is to white as night is to: A — Green. B — Day. C — Evening. D — Morning. Pick one.

Psychologist testing, long a method for gaining insight into students, job applicants and draftees is being adopted to baseball.

Anxious to learn all they can about their athletes, Pittsburgh officials invited Dr. Tom Tutko, a San Jose State psychologist, to administer a motivational test to the Pirates.

Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates, said several pro football teams have used the tests, long a favorite of large companies across the country.

"I want to emphasize," said Brown, "that our sixth place finish has nothing to do with our club taking the tests. If we had won every game last year and won the World Series in four games, I still would have suggested the tests."

Brown says the tests were designed for club officials to learn more about the Pirates, and Gil Hodges, new manager of the New York Mets, has learned something about his club in the few days since training began.

The Mets, Hodges learned, don't have a third baseman.

"We've got to come up with one," said Hodges. "Anytime you use more than two men at one position, you're in trouble.

New York used 11 men at third base in 1967 and finished 10th, which is trouble.

Alvin Dark, another new manager who inherited an eighth place Cleveland team, said only first baseman Tony Horton and third baseman Max Alvis are assured of regular jobs with the Indians.

Tony Conigliaro, Boston's slugging outfielder, put in a lengthy batting drill against the pitching machine and pronounced his left eye 100 per cent fit. Conigliaro missed the last six weeks of the 1967 season when he was struck in the face by a pitched ball.

"My eye is perfect," said Conigliaro. "There is no blur whatsoever. I can't wait to gets at live pitching."

Conigliaro gets that chance today.

Atlanta pitcher Clay Carroll suffered a broken left ankle while running in the outfield and will be out for a month to six weeks.

Kauffmans Finish 3rd In Skating

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Three American youngsters stole the show in the world figure skating Championships Wednesday and Tim Wood is determined to stay in the spotlight.

The brother and sister team of 19-year-old Cynthia and 21-year-old Ronald Kauffman of Seattle turned in a scintillating display to finish third in the pairs championship and prevent an unprecedented 1-2-3 triumph for Russia.

Ludmila Beloussova and Oleg Protopopov won their fourth straight pairs championship for Russia with nine ordinals and 315.9 points. Tatiana Zhuk and Aleksander Gorelik of Russia finished second with 19 ordinals and 311.5 points.

The brilliant Kauffmans collected 31 ordinals and 304.3 points to snatch third place away from Tamara Moskvina and Aleksei Mischin of Russia, who finished with 35 ordinals and 303.6 points.

Wood regained the lead over Emmerich Danzer, Austria's defending champion, in the all-important ordinal judging with 13 to Danzer's 16, although he still trailed Danzer in points by a narrow margin. Wood has 1,136.9 points to Danzer's 1,138.2.

Farrell Nips Aliquippa In Section 3 Playoff

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Farrell High School, which has won more PIAA basketball championships than any other school, has taken the first step to another.

The Steelers hung on to nip Aliquippa 52-51 Wednesday night, win the WPIAL Section 3 championship and advance to the quarter-finals of the District 7 Class A tournament.

It was the 11th straight victory for Farrell, 19-4, which will meet Valley next Monday. Aliquippa bowed out with an 18-5 mark.

The game was tied 11 times and the lead changed hands 17 times before Farrell took command.

Bill Champman's three-point play put the Steelers ahead for good after Aliquippa, nursing a one point lead failed to score on three successive one-and-one foul situations. Aliquippa missed 14 of 27 foul shots.

Farrell won without Coach Eddie McCluskey who has directed them to six WPIAL titles and five state championships. He's recuperating from surgery in a New York hospital but sub coach Sam Jankovich had no trouble spotting the key play.

"The turning point was Chapman's three - point play" he said simply.

Dave Johnson paced Farrell with 18 points and Bill Lee scored 14. For Aliquippa, Jesse Stewart hit for 16 and Lee Roy Bowie 14.

California eliminated Knoch 64 — 50 in a 7-B quarter-final game that opened the doubleheader watched by 5,092 at the Pitt Field House.

Marty Foster scored 19 as the Trojans, 18-5, advanced to a semi-final date against Tarentum.

Andy Popelas scored 17 and Tom Gedda 10 for California while Fred Rothen paced Knoch with 15.

Havlicek Sets Mark For Celtics

By The Associated Press

Things are going so badly for the crippled San Francisco Warriors that they're even getting hurt by other club's ailments.

The Warriors, with three players sidelined by injuries, bowed to Boston 135-1x0 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night. In the only other NBA game, New York squeezed past Baltimore 126-122.

In the American Basketball Association, Jimmy Rayl led Indiana's double overtime 122-116 victory over Oakland.

John Havlicek, who started for the Celtics because Sam Jones came down with the flu, poured in a first half club record 30 points and finished with 41 as Boston battered the Warriors.

Jones held the old Boston one-half record with 29 points.

The Warriors were without Rudy LaRusso, Jim King and Joe Ellis. LaRusso and Ellis have leg injuries and King has an aggravated groin injury.

Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 26 points.

Dick Barnett scored five points in the final minute as the Knicks came back to beat Baltimore.

The Bullets, led by Earl Monroe's 40 points, had wiped out a 14-point deficit and took the lead with 2½ minutes to play. Then Barnett and Walt Frazier helped New York putt it out.

Willis Reed canned 28 points for the Knicks, who shot a torrid 60 per cent in the first half and won their 10th game in the last 12. Barnett finished with 24.

Rayl scored half of his 18 points in the second overtime as Indiana outlasted Oakland.

Fred Lewis led the Pacers with 30 points and Ron Franz had 29 for Oakland.

Emile Griffith In Good Shape For Benvenuti

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Emile Griffith says he's in great shape. One look at him in action is enough to convince anyone that he's not kidding.

Showgirls hate him when they see his narrow waist. Musclemen turn green with envy when they look at his broad shoulders and bulging biceps.

The boxing program tale of the tape says his waist is 28 inches.

"It's 26½ inches right now and I've never felt better," said Griffith, who defends his world middleweight title against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

This will be Griffith's third title fight with Benvenuti. Griffith lost his crown to the tall, stylish Italian last April and regained it in September.

In the second fight on the doubleheader title card, Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., a couple of young, undefeated fighters, will meet for a piece of the world heavyweight title. New York and Massachusetts will recognize the winner as champion.

Griffith is a 7-5 favorite while Frazier is a 2-1 choice. Both favorites are training here at the Concord Hotel and they have formed a mutual admiration society.

"Emile has never been better," Frazier said today. "He's gonna beat Benvenuti good, and maybe knock him out."

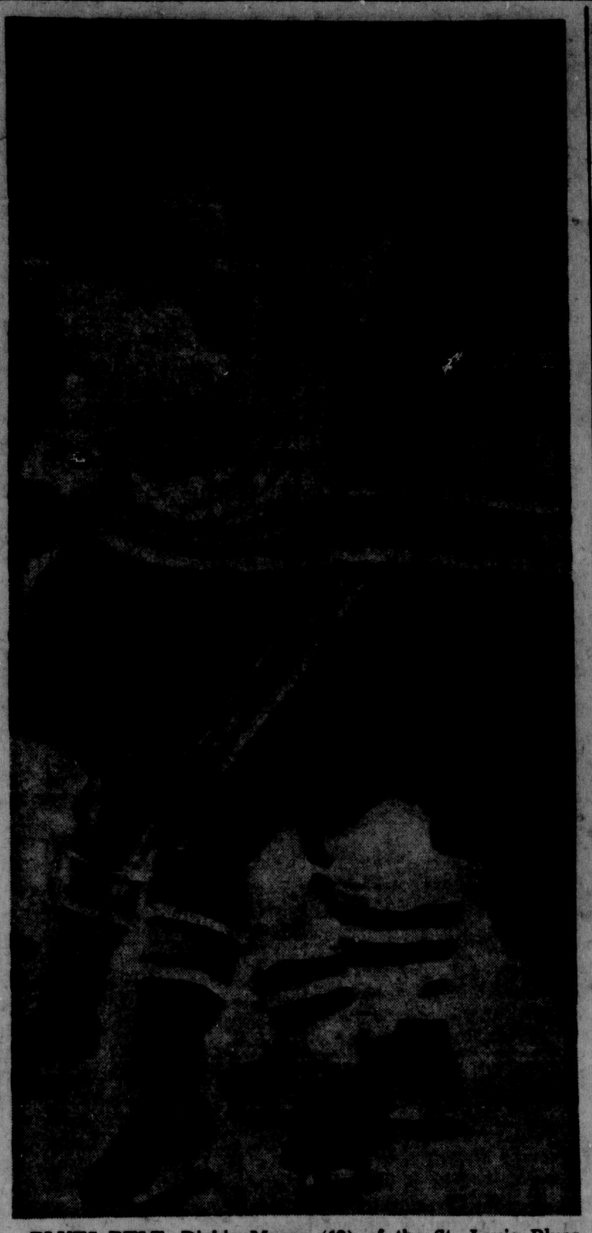

"Joe is going to win by a knockout," said Griffith. "He's one of the hardest working and strongest guys I've ever seen. He keeps coming on and he can take a guy out with one punch. Me, I've got to work on a guy. Maybe if I find the right spot Monday, I'll get a knockout."

Glenmoor Still Leads Little Potters

Glenmoor widened its lead in both divisions of the Little Potters basketball league in games played at Westgate last night.

In the eighth grade division Glenmoor, 7-1, edged Downtown, 3-5 by 15-13. Rick Lockhart had 6 for the winners and John Connell 8 for the losers. Glenmoor's win in the sixth and seventh grade division was also close, 20-18 over Downtown. Phil Moffett had 8 for the winners and George Hanlon 10 for the losers, 0-8.

East End also won a pair. In eighth grade action East End won 14-12, with Jim Natalina getting 7 for the winners, 5-3, and Jim Carter netting 6 for losing Northside, 1-7. In the sixth and seventh grade game East End whipped Northside 21-9. Mark Connell had all the points for the losers and Bob Jones and Rudy Jones 7 each for the winners. Both teams are 4-4.

Moore Sparks Rally, Blues Tie Canadiens

By The Associated Press

Dickie Moore went through enough Montreal rallies in 11 great National Hockey League seasons with the Canadiens to know how they get started.

Moore, who now earns his salary with St. Louis in the NHL's expansion West Division, carried over his knowledge to Wednesday night.

It was Moore's third period goal that started a three-goal spurt for the fired up Blues and earned them a 3-3 tie with the Canadiens.

In other games, rookie Bob Schmaltz' first NHL goal gave Chicago a 1-0 victory over Toronto and Oakland easily bested Minnesota 6-3 on the West Coast.

Moore, attempting a comeback with the Blues, scored his fourth goal of the season four minutes into the third period. And 9½ minutes later, St. Louis had its tie with Red Berenson, another ex-Canadien, and Frank St. Marseille scoring.

Yvan Cournoyer had done the early damage for Montreal with a pair of first period goals and Gilles Tremblay had made it 3-0 in the second period.

Goalie Denis DeJordy was brilliant in gaining his fourth shutout for Chicago.

He stopped 38 shots and slid out on his stomach to thwart Toronto's Frank Mahovlich on a third period breakaway.

Schmautz, called up last week, scored the game's only goal in the first period with Dennis Hull assisting.

Centers Bill Harris and Tex Hampson each scored twice as red-hot Oakland, last in the West Division, an up a 6-0 lead before Minnesota scored midway through the final period. It was the fifth triumph in seven games with one tie for the Seals.

Baseball Players OK Binding Arbitration

MIAMI (AP) — Major league players representatives ratified a two-year agreement Wednesday, calling for binding arbitration by the commissioner of baseball in any dispute arising between the 20 clubs and players.

The agreement, agreed to in principle by player representatives and owners a week earlier, also sets the minimum player salary at $10,000—an increase of $3,000—and gives the players a greater voice in contractural matters.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players' Association, said the player representatives accepted the arbitration clause after agreeing on several procedural changes in the manner of settling grievances.

"We feel that we have tightened up the steps in settling any grievances, subject to the players' approval, before such disputes might come before the commissioner," Miller said.

The players previously had questioned the commissioner's role as an impartial judge, as he is selected by the owners.

Miller said the changes in the uniform players contract prohibits unilateral alterations by club managements during the two-year agreement, ending Dec. 21, 1969, and requires negotiations with the players on any changes after that.

Other measures ratified at the meeting included:

—A study of the reserve clause, which presently binds a player to the club with which he is under contract, to be completed prior to the termination date of the overall agreement.

—A joint study on the length of the championship season, to be completed prior to the drawing up of the preliminary schedules for 1969.

—A reduction in the allowable salary cut from 25 per cent to 20 per cent of the previous year's contract.

—A $3 hike to $15 in the players' daily regular season meal allowance, an increase from $8 to $12 for daily spring training meals and a boost of miscellaneous spring training disbursements from $25 to $40 a week.

—Adoption of a set of scheduling relations for the 1968-69 seasons, aimed at reducing some of the more unreasonable travel demands on the players.

—The banning of championship or exhibition games during the All-Star break, except for charity purpose. The players selected for the All-Star game would not be required to play in such exhibitions.

—A provision for prompt notification and negotiaion with the players' association for player compensation should either the American or National leagues plan divisional playoff games in 1969.

—Provision for moving expenses for players and their families upon promotion from the minors to the majors, between opening day and Sept. 1. Such allowances will continue, as formerly, for players traded on the major league level during the season.

Sports Quiz

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceeding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right. Winners will receive two tickets to a Pittsburgh Penguins game of their choice.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

The entry of Earl Diddle was again tops this week, with a perfect score. Harry Gallatin of the New York Knicks played 746 consecutive NBA games including playoffs, the Fort Wayne Pistons nipped the Minneapolis Lakers 19-18 on Nov. 22, 1950 in the lowest-scoring NBA game ever, Passaic New Jersey High School ran off 159 straight wins in basketball before being stopped by Hackensack on Feb. 6, 1925, the Prince of Wales Trophy goes to the NHL team winning the regular season championship and Myles Gilbert is the real name of Toronto Maple Leaf defenseman "Tim" Horton. In the 1840s gambling on nine-pins became so bad in Connecticut that the state legislature passed a law prohibiting "nine pins". Someone added an extra pin to circumvent the law. Nine pin bowling is still popular in Europe, with the pins set in a diamond formation. Byron Nelson in 1944-45 won 13 straight tournaments; the mashie, niblick and midiron correspond to the modern 5, 9 and 2 irons; Fred Perry was the only tennis player in the modern era to win three men's singles championships at Wimbledon; and Althea Gibson quit tennis at the peak of a fine career to concentrate on golf.

This week's questions:

1. Who tried to catch a grapefruit thrown from an airplane in a spring training prank?
2. Who substituted the grapefruit for a baseball?
3. Who was the only established major leaguer to hold out for an entire season?
4. Who was the first club to go to spring training and where did it go?
5. What team once held spring training at Santa Catalina Island, California?
6. Who was the baseball player that started umpires signalling for balls and strikes?
7. What major league basketball team once went on strike and what resulted?
8. What two teams were involved in the longest pro football championship game?
9. John Rinka is leading Kenyon College to one of its best basketball records in years. Who was the high scorer for Kenyon about six years ago who was 10 inches taller than 5-9 Rinka?
10. What was a Steagle?

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

YOUR CAR PROBABLY WILL HAVE a non-explosive foam-filled fuel tank by 1970. This type tank is now used in Vietnam helicopters and in racing cars, and is much like a sponge. Very safe in wrecks.

SEE A LOT OF CAMPERS AND camping vans around? There are over 1,500,000 such rigs on the road in the U.S. today.

SOME CARS RECENTLY HAVE LOST their side vent windows. Now the makers may put them back on. Customers are used to them, like them!

TAKE THE PLEDGE: "WHEN DRIVING a motor vehicle, I am responsible for the safety of my passengers, pedestrians, other drivers."

WHAT CARS SELL BEST IN CANADA? For 1967: Chevrolet No. 1 with 107,300; Ford No. 2 with 99,500, then Pontiac No. 3 at 83,200, Dodge No. 4 with 53,300, Plymouth No. 5 at 50,600 and Volkswagen No. 6 at 27,600. Imperial is at the bottom of the list, No. 27 with 345 sales, and Lincoln next at 26th with 604 sold. Cadillac is 19th with 3,173 sales.

WE INSPECT, SELECT, REPAIR, REFURBISH, clean, wash, re-tire, put our used car trade-ins in top driving condition. Why? We can't afford to sell a BAD used car. We have a fine reputation to protect. Havlicek Sets Mark For Celtics

By The Associated Press

Things are going so badly for the crippled San Francisco Warriors that they're even getting hurt by other club's ailments.

The Warriors, with three players sidelined by injuries, bowed to Boston 135-1x0 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night. In the only other NBA game, New York squeezed past Baltimore 126-122.

In the American Basketball Association, Jimmy Rayl led Indiana's double overtime 122-116 victory over Oakland.

John Havlicek, who started for the Celtics because Sam Jones came down with the flu, poured in a first half club record 30 points and finished with 41 as Boston battered the Warriors.

Jones held the old Boston one-half record with 29 points.

The Warriors were without Rudy LaRusso, Jim King and Joe Ellis. LaRusso and Ellis have leg injuries and King has an aggravated groin injury.

Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 26 points.

Dick Barnett scored five points in the final minute as the Knicks came back to beat Baltimore.

The Bullets, led by Earl Monroe's 40 points, had wiped out a 14-point deficit and took the lead with 2½ minutes to play. Then Barnett and Walt Frazier helped New York putt it out.

Willis Reed canned 28 points for the Knicks, who shot a torrid 60 per cent in the first half and won their 10th game in the last 12. Barnett finished with 24.

Rayl scored half of his 18 points in the second overtime as Indiana outlasted Oakland.

Fred Lewis led the Pacers with 30 points and Ron Franz had 29 for Oakland.

Emile Griffith In Good Shape For Benvenuti

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Emile Griffith says he's in great shape. One look at him in action is enough to convince anyone that he's not kidding.

Showgirls hate him when they see his narrow waist. Musclemen turn green with envy when they look at his broad shoulders and bulging biceps.

The boxing program tale of the tape says his waist is 28 inches.

"It's 26½ inches right now and I've never felt better," said Griffith, who defends his world middleweight title against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

This will be Griffith's third title fight with Benvenuti. Griffith lost his crown to the tall, stylish Italian last April and regained it in September.

In the second fight on the doubleheader title card, Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., a couple of young, undefeated fighters, will meet for a piece of the world heavyweight title. New York and Massachusetts will recognize the winner as champion.

Griffith is a 7-5 favorite while Frazier is a 2-1 choice. Both favorites are training here at the Concord Hotel and they have formed a mutual admiration society.

"Emile has never been better," Frazier said today. "He's gonna beat Benvenuti good, and maybe knock him out."

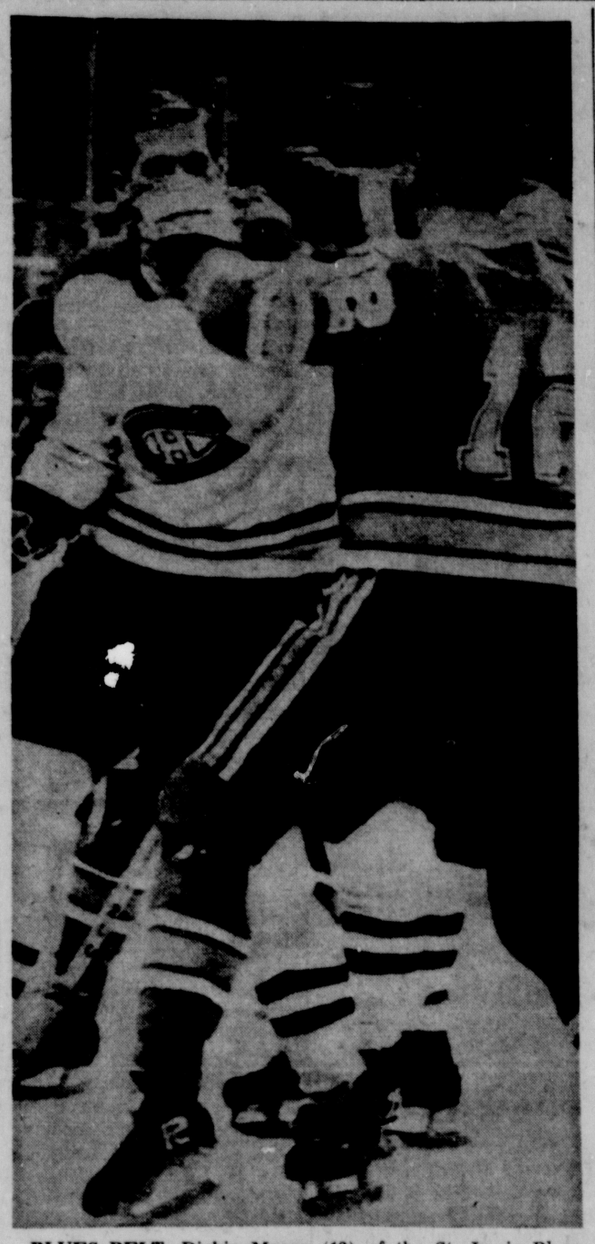

"Joe is going to win by a knockout," said Griffith. "He's one of the hardest working and strongest guys I've ever seen. He keeps coming on and he can take a guy out with one punch. Me, I've got to work on a guy. Maybe if I find the right spot Monday, I'll get a knockout."

Glenmoor Still Leads Little Potters

Glenmoor widened its lead in both divisions of the Little Potters basketball league in games played at Westgate last night.

In the eighth grade division Glenmoor, 7-1, edged Downtown, 3-5 by 15-13. Rick Lockhart had 6 for the winners and John Connell 8 for the losers. Glenmoor's win in the sixth and seventh grade division was also close, 20-18 over Downtown. Phil Moffett had 8 for the winners and George Hanlon 10 for the losers, 0-8.

East End also won a pair. In eighth grade action East End won 14-12, with Jim Natalina getting 7 for the winners, 5-3, and Jim Carter netting 6 for losing Northside, 1-7. In the sixth and seventh grade game East End whipped Northside 21-9. Mark Connell had all the points for the losers and Bob Jones and Rudy Jones 7 each for the winners. Both teams are 4-4.

Moore Sparks Rally, Blues Tie Canadiens

By The Associated Press

Dickie Moore went through enough Montreal rallies in 11 great National Hockey League seasons with the Canadiens to know how they get started.

Moore, who now earns his salary with St. Louis in the NHL's expansion West Division, carried over his knowledge to Wednesday night.

It was Moore's third period goal that started a three-goal spurt for the fired up Blues and earned them a 3-3 tie with the Canadiens.

In other games, rookie Bob Schmaltz' first NHL goal gave Chicago a 1-0 victory over Toronto and Oakland easily bested Minnesota 6-3 on the West Coast.

Moore, attempting a comeback with the Blues, scored his fourth goal of the season four minutes into the third period. And 9½ minutes later, St. Louis had its tie with Red Berenson, another ex-Canadien, and Frank St. Marseille scoring.

Yvan Cournoyer had done the early damage for Montreal with a pair of first period goals and Gilles Tremblay had made it 3-0 in the second period.

Goalie Denis DeJordy was brilliant in gaining his fourth shutout for Chicago.

He stopped 38 shots and slid out on his stomach to thwart Toronto's Frank Mahovlich on a third period breakaway.

Schmautz, called up last week, scored the game's only goal in the first period with Dennis Hull assisting.

Centers Bill Harris and Tex Hampson each scored twice as red-hot Oakland, last in the West Division, an up a 6-0 lead before Minnesota scored midway through the final period. It was the fifth triumph in seven games with one tie for the Seals.

Baseball Players OK Binding Arbitration

MIAMI (AP) — Major league players representatives ratified a two-year agreement Wednesday, calling for binding arbitration by the commissioner of baseball in any dispute arising between the 20 clubs and players.

The agreement, agreed to in principle by player representatives and owners a week earlier, also sets the minimum player salary at $10,000—an increase of $3,000—and gives the players a greater voice in contractural matters.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players' Association, said the player representatives accepted the arbitration clause after agreeing on several procedural changes in the manner of settling grievances.

"We feel that we have tightened up the steps in settling any grievances, subject to the players' approval, before such disputes might come before the commissioner," Miller said.

The players previously had questioned the commissioner's role as an impartial judge, as he is selected by the owners.

Miller said the changes in the uniform players contract prohibits unilateral alterations by club managements during the two-year agreement, ending Dec. 21, 1969, and requires negotiations with the players on any changes after that.

Other measures ratified at the meeting included:

—A study of the reserve clause, which presently binds a player to the club with which he is under contract, to be completed prior to the termination date of the overall agreement.

—A joint study on the length of the championship season, to be completed prior to the drawing up of the preliminary schedules for 1969.

—A reduction in the allowable salary cut from 25 per cent to 20 per cent of the previous year's contract.

—A $3 hike to $15 in the players' daily regular season meal allowance, an increase from $8 to $12 for daily spring training meals and a boost of miscellaneous spring training disbursements from $25 to $40 a week.

—Adoption of a set of scheduling relations for the 1968-69 seasons, aimed at reducing some of the more unreasonable travel demands on the players.

—The banning of championship or exhibition games during the All-Star break, except for charity purpose. The players selected for the All-Star game would not be required to play in such exhibitions.

—A provision for prompt notification and negotiaion with the players' association for player compensation should either the American or National leagues plan divisional playoff games in 1969.

—Provision for moving expenses for players and their families upon promotion from the minors to the majors, between opening day and Sept. 1. Such allowances will continue, as formerly, for players traded on the major league level during the season.

2 Bowling Green Tackles Sign Pacts With Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tackles David Seiter and Ernest George, who played for Bowling Green State University last season, have signed Cleveland Browns contracts to play in the National Football League, the club announced today.

Seiter, a defensive tackle, was co-captain of the Falcons last year and the team's most valuable player. A native of East Palestine, Ohio, he is 21 weighs 235 and stands 6-foot-3.

George, also 21, is an offensive tacklet and is the son of an Akron policeman. He stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 245.

Sports Quiz

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceeding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right. Winners will receive two tickets to a Pittsburgh Penguins game of their choice.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

The entry of Earl Diddle was again tops this week, with a perfect score. Harry Gallatin of the New York Knicks played 746 consecutive NBA games including playoffs, the Fort Wayne Pistons nipped the Minneapolis Lakers 19-18 on Nov. 22, 1950 in the lowest-scoring NBA game ever, Passaic New Jersey High School ran off 159 straight wins in basketball before being stopped by Hackensack on Feb. 6, 1925, the Prince of Wales Trophy goes to the NHL team winning the regular season championship and Myles Gilbert is the real name of Toronto Maple Leaf defenseman "Tim" Horton. In the 1840s gambling on nine-pins became so bad in Connecticut that the state legislature passed a law prohibiting "nine pins". Someone added an extra pin to circumvent the law. Nine pin bowling is still popular in Europe, with the pins set in a diamond formation. Byron Nelson in 1944-45 won 13 straight tournaments; the mashie, niblick and midiron correspond to the modern 5, 9 and 2 irons; Fred Perry was the only tennis player in the modern era to win three men's singles championships at Wimbledon; and Althea Gibson quit tennis at the peak of a fine career to concentrate on golf.

This week's questions:

1. Who tried to catch a grapefruit thrown from an airplane in a spring training prank?
2. Who substituted the grapefruit for a baseball?
3. Who was the only established major leaguer to hold out for an entire season?
4. Who was the first club to go to spring training and where did it go?
5. What team once held spring training at Santa Catalina Island, California?
6. Who was the baseball player that started umpires signalling for balls and strikes?
7. What major league basketball team once went on strike and what resulted?
8. What two teams were involved in the longest pro football championship game?
9. John Rinka is leading Kenyon College to one of its best basketball records in years. Who was the high scorer for Kenyon about six years ago who was 10 inches taller than 5-9 Rinka?
10. What was a Steagle?

Committee To Award Contract

Council Receives Sewer Bids

Midland Borough Council opened three bids for cleaning and inspection of a 72-inch storm sewer at a regular meeting Wednesday night.

The Pittsburgh Pipe Cleaner Co. of Zelienople bid $25 per hour for the work plus 45 cents per lineal foot for a continuous photographic survey of the 1,350 foot sewer. Robinson Pipe Cleaning Co. of Canonsburg bid $23.75 per hour and 75 cents per foot, while E. L. Mayhue and Son of Rochester bid $22.50 per hour and 75 cents per foot.

The bids were referred to Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, the solicitor, and the borough street department for study. They will award the contract.

THE BOROUGH will contact three tree companies, Davey Tree Experts of Pittsburgh, Paul Muschweck of Industry, and Stanley Tree Co. of Beaver Falls for quotations on tree spraying, pruning, cutting and removal of stumps. It is hoped the project can be carried out at a cost of $1,500 or less. If not, the borough will advertise for bids. Councilman Joseph Hibbard recommended the work be arranged since spring is approaching.

Councilman Raymond Presutti asked that a letter be sent to Duquesne Light Co. requesting uniform tree trimming on Midland streets on future jobs. He said the company has trimmed trees on only one side of Penn Ave., causing an unsightly appearance.

THE STATE HIGHWAY Department's District 11 office at Greentree notified Council by letter that because of a priority system and the strain on finances resurfacing of Midland Ave. to the Ohioville Borough line cannot be accomplished before the summer of 1969. William S. Stephens, district engineer, stressed, however, that the County highway department will continue repairing potholes in Midland.

When notified of the proposed date of resurfacing at the last Council meeting, letters of protest were sent to Stephens, along with letters from Sen. Ernest P. Kline, Mrs. Emily Carroll, Ohioville Borough secretary, and George Ford, superintendent of community relations at Crucible Steel, Midland Division, recommending the work be accomplished in 1968 because of heavy traffic by trucks and steelworkers.

THE FIDELITY Detective Bureau Inc. of Pittsburgh asked permission to install a local burglar alarm receiving unit in the Midland Police Station radio room. Council's police committee and Chief Edward Steff were given power to act.

The company advised they are approved by Underwriter Laboratories, Inc., and at the present time are proposing an alarm system for Orr's Jewelers at Midland. The alarm would be connected to the police office on telephone lease lines. There would be no charge to the Borough for the installation. The unit would be self-contained and would require no additional equipment.

COUNCIL WAS advised that Centre Video customers may pay cable television charges at the Beaver Trust Co., Midland Division, beginning Friday. Subscribers are being notified by mail of this change. Formerly payments were mailed to the company headquarters.

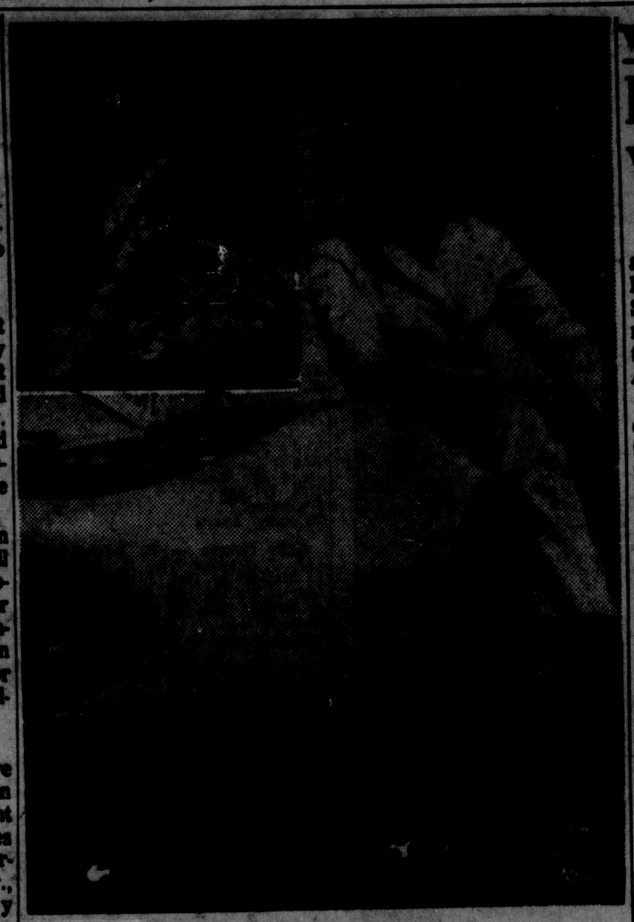

Councilman William Shovlin said the health committee will meet Monday night with Dr. Joseph Helfrich, Midland's senior physician, to discuss maintaining Thursday office hours in Midland. Apparently, no doctor is available on this day in Midland.

MIDLAND POLICE were lauded for their good work in maintaining order at the recent Holiday Tournament by James J. Migliore, tournament chairmen. William Vinovich Sr., Council president, said many comments of this type had come from those attending from Uniontown, New Castle and Duquesne.

Vinovich explained that through the cooperation of Beaver County Commissioner Eli G. Corak and Midland Borough, a dangerous section of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd. is now being plowed and ashed on snowy days. Vinovich said that Midland had agreed to help since Ohioville Borough has limited funds for upkeep of this type.

Council will meet next on March 13 at 8 p. m.

Would Ban Housing Discrimination

Dirksen Spurs Showdown Vote On Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is moving to force a Senate showdown vote on a civil rights bill banning discrimination in sale or rental of most American housing.

A vote on Dirksen's petition to end debate—which needs two-thirds approval of those voting to carry—is scheduled for today.

Dirksen helped forge a Southern-Republican conservative coalition that twice earlier beat back bids to end the debate. He has since played a leading role in nailing together a compromise bill.

Some Southern senators objected Wednesday to his petition, saying it wouldn't give them a chance to study the compromise or prepare amendments.

"My reputation for fairness will have to stand on my 40 years of public service," the 72-year-old Illinois Republican replied.

Dirksen defended his support of the open-housing proposal, past versions of which he has vigorously opposed, by saying Negro veterans returning from Vietnam "will be entitled to be integrated into the social and economic life of our country."

Referring to last summer's riots, he said the problems of the cities can't be solved without fairness in the field of housing.

Under the compromise measure, introduced just before the cloture petition, a ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of housing would take effect in three stages and—when fully effective—would cover about 70 per cent of the nation's housing units.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1970, home owners would be barred from discrimination in the sale of their property if they made use of a real-estate broker. They would be exempted from coverage only if they handled the sale themselves.

They would lose their exemption if, in sales advertising, they indicated racial or religious discrimination.

The first stage of the open-housing provision would take effect immediately and apply to housing financed with Federal Housing Administration or Veterans Administration guarantees, to public housing and to urban renewal projects.

In the second stage, the discrimination ban would apply to multiunit housing, effective Dec. 31, 1968. Financial institutions making housing loans and real-estate brokers would be covered at the same time.

The other part of the bill would provide federal criminal penalties for using force or threats to interfere with the exercise of civil rights.

The original administration bill specified Negroes and civil rights workers for such protection.

But under the compromise, no racial motivation would have to be involved to make interference with federally protected rights such as voting, serving on federal juries or participating in federally aided programs a federal crime.

But racial motivation would have to be a factor under what are classed as state-protected rights. These include use of public accommodations, attending public schools, serving on state juries, employment, and use of interstate facilities in travel.

Film Writer In 20s, 30s, 40s

Laurence Stallings Dies; Wrote 'What Price Glory'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Writer Laurence Stallings Jr., who died Wednesday was a living example of the theme of his World War I play "What Price Glory," says a retired Army Air Corps general, Merian C. Cooper.

"I knew him for 40 years. He had no legs and was in pain all the time, but I never heard him do anything but make light of it," said Cooper, now a Hollywood film director and producer.

The theme of Stallings' famous play, said Cooper, was that courageous "men don't talk about glory, nor do they talk about honor. They only die for those things."

Stallings, who wrote "What Price Glory" with Maxwell Anderson and wrote scores of Hollywood films in the 1920s, 30s and 40s, died at his West Los Angeles apartment of an apparent heart attack. He was 73.

Stallings fought and was wounded in 1918 as a young Marine officer in World War I and, 40 years later, wrote "The Doughboys," a popular history of the American expeditionary force during that war.

Despite the loss of his right leg he traveled the world as an editor and writer for Fox Movietone News, covering pre-World War II Europe and wars in Ethiopia and Spain.

He lost his second leg in 1946, also as the results of wounds suffered in France during the First World War.

Despite his artificial limb, he was called into the Air Force in World War II and served in England, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

Retired as a lieutenant colonel, he returned to Hollywood, and among his later films, wrote "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" in 1949.

Stallings was born in Macon, Ga., and graduated from Wake Forest College in North Carolina.

Britain's Immigration Bill Critics Claim 'Concession'

LONDON (AP) — Critics of the British government's bill limiting colored immigration claimed today to have won a major concession—agreement to admit any British citizens expelled from their native lands.

The bill cleared the House of Commons today after an all-night sitting and a debate lasting more than 15 hours. Approval in the House of Lords was expected later today, and the bill then goes to Queen Elizabeth II for her assent, the final step in the lawmaking process.

The bill allows the government to set an annual quota of 1,500 on immigrants who are British citizens but not born in Britain or the children of native-born Britons. The immediate target is about 100,000 natives of Kenya of Indian or Pakistani origin who retained British citizenship when Kenya became independent in 1963. Now they are being frozen out of business, trade and employment by new restrictions on noncitizens of Kenya.

Home Secretary James Callaghan, asked what Britain would do about any Asian "thrown out" by the Kenya government, replied: "We shall have to take him in. You cannot do anything else in those circumstances."

Although Callaghan refused to have his concession written into the bill, his words were taken as a promise that the quota would be modified to admit any British citizens expelled by their country of residence.

"What you have said makes nonsense of the bill," Conservative Geoffrey Hurst told Callaghan.

Callaghan had strong words for the Kenyan policy of Africanization.

"I find it distasteful to believe," Callaghan said, "that any Commonwealth government would pursue a policy to the point where it is going to deliberately throw people out of work and ask them to leave the country in which they were born within weeks or months."

He added, however, that it had been impossible to have "any meaningful discussions" with Nairobi on the crisis.

Callaghan promised that Kenyan Asians "who are genuinely obliged to leave Kenya will get first priority" to come to Britain undert he quota.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove all stains from brick?

A. — Dissolve a pound of trisodium phosphate in a gallon of water, mix this with whiting to form a paste, then spread a thick layer of it over the oil stain, let dry thoroughly, scrape it off and wash with clear water.

Q. — How can I keep leather luggage, handbags, briefcases and other such articles in good condition?

A. — After a good washing with a cloth wrung out of pure soapsuds, apply neat's-foot oil, lanolin, or castor oil — all of which are leather conditioners.

Q. — How can I clean a black or colored felt hat?

A. — Merely rubbing over the hat with a piece of stale rye bread often does a real good job.

Q. —How can I clean out a corroded steam iron?

A. — Fill it with vinegar, and let it get very hot. Pour out the vinegar, and from then on use only distilled water to keep it in good condition.

2 California Cyclists Sought In Cleveland Slaying Of Pair

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two California youths, said by police to be members of the Hell's Angels motorcycle club, are among six persons being sought in connection with the slaying Wednesday of two men in an East Side bar.

Killed were James O. Tillet, 39, a white truck driver, and Roosevelt Brown, 38, a Negro factory worker.

Police said Tillet was shot in the head when he went to the aid of Brown, who was being beaten by a gang of leather-jacketed youths.

The two men were sitting at one of the bars at the Barto Cafe when members of the gang entered in twos and threes.

There were about 12 gang members—most of them bearded and wearing shoulder length hair—accompanied by three or four girls, police said.

"Most of the youths were of the Cleveland chapter of Hell's Angels," a homicide detective said. "But two were from California and had come to Cleveland to organize the gang here."

Mrs. Mildred Williams, a barmaid, told police some of the gang played pool after entering the bar, but later started beating Negro piano player Robert Williams, 40, (no relation) when he jokingly told them he was a policeman.

Reports that the killings were indirectly linked with a feud between the Hell's Angels and a Cleveland gang called "God's Children," were discounted by police.

Police also denied that the killings had any racial undertones.

"We are treating it as a straight case of murder resulting from a bar room fight," a homicide detective said.

After raiding a building near the bar police found two shotguns, a rifle, motorcycle helmets and other equipment. The building was believed to have been used by the gang as its headquarters.

An 18-year-old Cleveland youth found sleeping on a mattress in the building was arrested.

Best hockey scorer in Michigan State history is Doug Roberts who scored 28 goals and 33 assists during the 1964-65 campaign.

Committee To Award Contract

Council Receives Sewer Bids

Midland Borough Council opened three bids for cleaning and inspection of a 72-inch storm sewer at a regular meeting Wednesday night.

The Pittsburgh Pipe Cleaner Co. of Zelienople bid $25 per hour for the work plus 45 cents per lineal foot for a continuous photographic survey of the 1,350 foot sewer. Robinson Pipe Cleaning Co. of Canonsburg bid $23.75 per hour and 75 cents per foot, while E. L. Mayhue and Son of Rochester bid $22.50 per hour and 75 cents per foot.

The bids were referred to Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, the solicitor, and the borough street department for study. They will award the contract.

THE BOROUGH will contact three tree companies, Davey Tree Experts of Pittsburgh, Paul Muschweck of Industry, and Stanley Tree Co. of Beaver Falls for quotations on tree spraying, pruning, cutting and removal of stumps. It is hoped the project can be carried out at a cost of $1,500 or less. If not, the borough will advertise for bids. Councilman Joseph Hibbard recommended the work be arranged since spring is approaching.

Councilman Raymond Presutti asked that a letter be sent to Duquesne Light Co. requesting uniform tree trimming on Midland streets on future jobs. He said the company has trimmed trees on only one side of Penn Ave., causing an unsightly appearance.

THE STATE HIGHWAY Department's District 11 office at Greentree notified Council by letter that because of a priority system and the strain on finances resurfacing of Midland Ave. to the Ohioville Borough line cannot be accomplished before the summer of 1969. William S. Stephens, district engineer, stressed, however, that the County highway department will continue repairing potholes in Midland.

When notified of the proposed date of resurfacing at the last Council meeting, letters of protest were sent to Stephens, along with letters from Sen. Ernest P. Kline, Mrs. Emily Carroll, Ohioville Borough secretary, and George Ford, superintendent of community relations at Crucible Steel, Midland Division, recommending the work be accomplished in 1968 because of heavy traffic by trucks and steelworkers.

THE FIDELITY Detective Bureau Inc. of Pittsburgh asked permission to install a local burglar alarm receiving unit in the Midland Police Station radio room. Council's police committee and Chief Edward Stefl were given power to act.

The company advised they are approved by Underwriter Laboratories, Inc., and at the present time are proposing an alarm system for Orr's Jewelers at Midland. The alarm would be connected to the police office on telephone lease lines. There would be no charge to the Borough for the installation. The unit would be self-contained and would require no additional equipment.

COUNCIL WAS advised that Centre Video customers may pay cable television charges at the Beaver Trust Co., Midland Division, beginning Friday. Subscribers are being notified by mail of this change. Formerly payments were mailed to the company headquarters.

Councilman William Shovlin said the health committee will meet Monday night with Dr. Joseph Helfrich, Midland's senior physician, to discuss maintaining Thursday office hours in Midland. Apparently, no doctor is available on this day in Midland.

MIDLAND POLICE were lauded for their good work in maintaining order at the recent Holiday Tournament by James J. Migliore, tournament chairmen. William Vinovich Sr., Council president, said many comments of this type had come from those attending from Uniontown, New Castle and Duquesne.

Vinovich explained that through the cooperation of Beaver County Commissioner Eli G. Corak and Midland Borough, a dangerous section of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd. is now being plowed and ashed on snowy days. Vinovich said that Midland had agreed to help since Ohioville Borough has limited funds for upkeep of this type.

Council will meet next on March 13 at 8 p. m.

Would Ban Housing Discrimination

Dirksen Spurs Showdown Vote On Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is moving to force a Senate showdown vote on a civil rights bill banning discrimination in sale or rental of most American housing.

A vote on Dirksen's petition to end debate—which needs two-thirds approval of those voting to carry—is scheduled for today.

Dirksen helped forge a Southern-Republican conservative coalition that twice earlier beat back bids to end the debate. He has since played a leading role in nailing together a compromise bill.

Some Southern senators objected Wednesday to his petition, saying it wouldn't give them a chance to study the compromise or prepare amendments.

"My reputation for fairness will have to stand on my 40 years of public service," the 72-year-old Illinois Republican replied.

Dirksen defended his support of the open-housing proposal, past versions of which he has vigorously opposed, by saying Negro veterans returning from Vietnam "will be entitled to be integrated into the social and economic life of our country."

Referring to last summer's riots, he said the problems of the cities can't be solved without fairness in the field of housing.

Under the compromise measure, introduced just before the cloture petition, a ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of housing would take effect in three stages and—when fully effective—would cover about 70 per cent of the nation's housing units.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1970, home owners would be barred from discrimination in the sale of their property if they made use of a real-estate broker. They would be exempted from coverage only if they handled the sale themselves.

They would lose their exemption if, in sales advertising, they indicated racial or religious discrimination.

The first stage of the open-housing provision would take effect immediately and apply to housing financed with Federal Housing Administration or Veterans Administration guarantees, to public housing and to urban renewal projects.

In the second stage, the discrimination ban would apply to multiunit housing, effective Dec. 31, 1968. Financial institutions making housing loans and real-estate brokers would be covered at the same time.

The other part of the bill would provide federal criminal panalties for using force or threats to interfere with the exercise of civil rights.

The original administration bill specified Negroes and civil rights workers for such protection.

But under the compromise, no racial motivation would have to be involved to make interference with federally protected rights such as voting, serving on federal juries or participating in federally aided programs a federal crime.

But racial motivation would have to be a factor under what are classed as state-protected rights. These include use of public accommodations, attending public schools, serving on state juries, employment, and use of interstate facilities in travel.

Film Writer In 20s, 30s, 40s

Laurence Stallings Dies; Wrote 'What Price Glory'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Writer Laurence Stallings Jr., who died Wednesday was a living example of the theme of his World War I play "What Price Glory," says a retired Army Air Corps general, Merian C. Cooper.

"I knew him for 40 years. He had no legs and was in pain all the time, but I never heard him do anything but make light of it," said Cooper, now a Hollywood film director and producer.

The theme of Stallings' famous play, said Cooper, was that courageous "men don't talk about glory, nor do they talk about honor. They only die for those things."

Stallings, who wrote "What Price Glory" with Maxwell Anderson and wrote scores of Hollywood films in the 1920s, 30s and 40s, died at his West Los Angeles apartment of an apparent heart attack. He was 73.

Stallings fought and was wounded in 1918 as a young Marine officer in World War I and, 40 years later, wrote "The Doughboys," a popular history of the American expeditionary force during that war.

Despite the loss of his right leg he traveled the world as an editor and writer for Fox Movietone News, covering pre-World War II Europe and wars in Ethiopia and Spain.

He lost his second leg in 1946, also as the results of wounds suffered in France during the First World War.

Despite his artificial limb, he was called into the Air Force in World War II and served in England, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

Retired as a lieutenant colonel, he returned to Hollywood, and among his later films, wrote "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" in 1949.

Stallings was born in Macon, Ga., and graduated from Wake Forest College in North Carolina.

Britain's Immigration Bill Critics Claim 'Concession'

LONDON (AP) — Critics of the British government's bill limiting colored immigration claimed today to have won a major concession—agreement to admit any British citizens expelled from their native lands.

The bill cleared the House of Commons today after an all-night sitting and a debate lasting more than 15 hours. Approval in the House of Lords was expected later today, and the bill then goes to Queen Elizabeth II for her assent, the final step in the lawmaking process.

The bill allows the government to set an annual quota of 1,500 on immigrants who are British citizens but not born in Britain or the children of native-born Britons. The immediate target is about 100,000 natives of Kenya of Indian or Pakistani origin who retained British citizenship when Kenya became independent in 1963. Now they are being frozen out of business, trade and employment by new restrictions on noncitizens of Kenya.

Home Secretary James Callaghan, asked what Britain would do about any Asian "thrown out" by the Kenya government, replied: "We shall have to take him in. You cannot do anything else in those circumstances."

Although Callaghan refused to have his concession written into the bill, his words were taken as a promise that the quota would be modified to admit any British citizens expelled by their country of residence.

"What you have said makes nonsense of the bill," Conservative Geoffrey Hurst told Callaghan.

Callaghan had strong words for the Kenyan policy of Africanization.

"I find it distasteful to believe," Callaghan said, "that any Commonwealth government would pursue a policy to the point where it is going to deliberately throw people out of work and ask them to leave the country in which they were born within weeks or months."

He added, however, that it had been impossible to have "any meaningful discussions" with Nairobi on the crisis.

Callaghan promised that Kenyan Asians "who are genuinely obliged to leave Kenya will get first priority" to come to Britain undert he quota.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove oil stains from brick?

A. — Dissolve a pound of trisodium phosphate in a gallon of water, mix this with whiting to form a paste, then spread a thick layer of it over the oil stain, let dry thoroughly, scrape it off and wash with clear water.

Q. — How can I keep leather luggage, handbags, briefcases and other such articles in good condition?

A. — After a good washing with a cloth wrung out of pure soapsuds, apply neat's-foot oil, lanolin, or castor oil — all of which are leather conditioners.

Q. — How can I clean a black or colored felt hat?

A. — Merely rubbing over the hat with a piece of stale rye bread often does a real good job.

Q. —How can I clean out a corroded steam iron?

A. — Fill it with vinegar, and let it get very hot. Pour out the vinegar, and from then on use only distilled water to keep it in good condition.

2 California Cyclists Sought In Cleveland Slaying Of Pair

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two California youths, said by police to be members of the Hell's Angels motorcycle club, are among six persons being sought in connection with the slaying Wednesday of two men in an East Side bar.

Killed were James O. Tillet, 38, a white truck driver, and Roosevelt Brown, 38, a Negro factory worker.

Police said Tillet was shot in the head when he went to the aid of Brown, who was being beaten by a gang of leather - jacketed youths.

The two men were sitting at one of the bars at the Barto Cafe when members of the gang entered in twos and threes.

There were about 12 gang members—most of them bearded and wearing shoulder length hair—accompanied by three or four girls, police said.

"Most of the youths were of the Cleveland chapter of Hell's Angels," a homicide detective said. "But two were from California and had come to Cleveland to organize the gang here."

Mrs. Mildred Williams, a barmaid, told police some of the gang played pool after entering the bar, but later started beating Negro piano player Robert Williams, 40, (no relation) when he jokingly told them he was a policeman.

Reports that the killings were indirectly linked with a feud between the Hell's Angels and a Cleveland gang called "God's Children," were discounted by police.

Police also denied that the killings had any racial undertones.

"We are treating it as a straight case of murder resulting from a bar room fight," a homicide detective said.

After raiding a building near the bar police found two shotguns, a rifle, motorcycle helmets and other equipment. The building was believed to have been used by the gang as its headquarters.

Best hockey scorer in Michigan State history is Doug Roberts who scored 28 goals and 33 assists during the 1964-65 campaign.

Junior Editors Quiz on TAPA CLOTH

QUESTION: What was tapa cloth used for and how was it made?

ANSWER: In our day we think of cloth as made from threads woven together. But before weaving became widespread, people made clothes in other ways. The American Indians used softened deer skin. In many tropical locations, especially in the South Seas Islands, a kind of cloth was made from the bark of the paper mulberry, banyan and breadfruit trees. This was called tapa, or kapa. To make tapa, strips of the fibrous inner bark were peeled off, and after being soaked in water, were beaten with mallets over a log (upper right). The fibers of the strips matted together into a wide piece of bark cloth. South Seas natives had very artistic feelings and usually decorated their tapa cloth with beautiful designs, such as those we show. Sometimes these were painted on. Sometimes leaves were pressed into dye to make them. And sometimes the cloth was rolled over printing boards, which often had patterns of fibers stretched over them. Rich designs in dark shiny gum were often painted over the printed foundation. Such cloth was used as simple clothing (left) or as wall hangings inside airy houses thatched with palm leaves.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I preserve the color of my linens?

A. — By placing a few small pieces of camphor gum in your linen closets and drawers.

Q. — How can I extract more juice from a lemon?

A. — By putting the lemon under the hot-water faucet before slicing it.

Q. — Is there any way I can prevent a paintbrush from shedding bristles while I am painting?

Q. — One way is to give it a varnish treatment. You can do this by placing the brush bristles up and pouring clear varnish into the base of the bristles, keeping the brush in an upright position until the varnish has dried and "glued" the bristles into place.

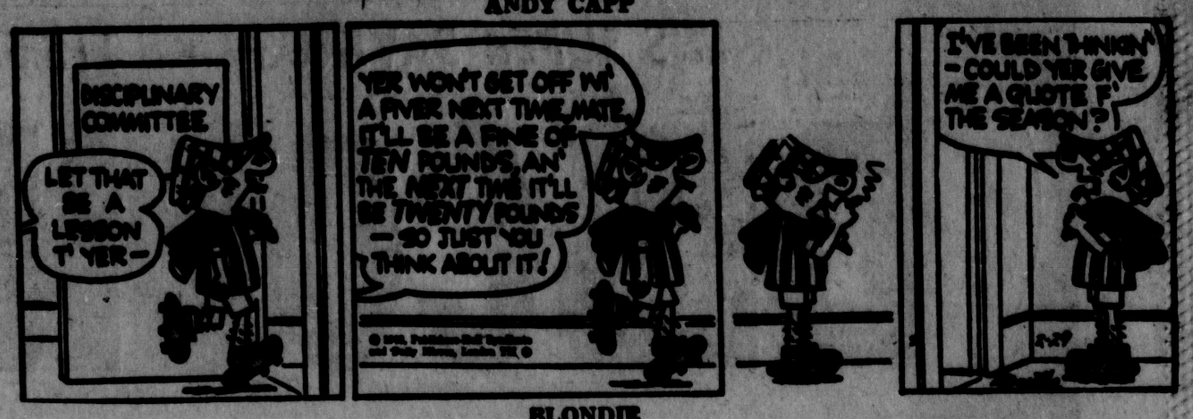

Q.—What is a recommended manner of caring for marble table tops?

A.—Wash with water and synthetic detergent, rinsing carefully, wiping dry, then buffing. If desired, you can wax the marble, using a pure, white water-wax emulsion, not ordinary furniture or floor wax—this helping to retard soil. To polish the marble top, you can use putty powder or jeweler's rouge.

Q.—How can I prevent tearful eyes when chopping or slicing onions?

A.—By storing your onions in your refrigerator. This not only prevents your crying, but also prevents the onion from sprouting.
